Truck show revs up to be bigger than ever

RECORD numbers of trucks and exhibitors will descend on the Park Hall Showground near Oswestry at the weekend for the Shropshire Truck Show.

Organisers say that there are 30 per cent more exhibitors and many more trucks this year than last. Will Mellor, star of BBC hit comedy Two Pints of Lager and a Packet of Crisps, will be appearing at the show on Sunday while Sally Traffic - Sally Boazman from Radio 2 - is visiting the show on Saturday to meet the truckers who call in to her show.

Other entertainment includes a car-crushing showdown between monster trucks Swamp Thing and new truck Crusher and an opportunity to actually ride in a real monster truck, Red Dragon, which will be giving passenger rides throughout the weekend.

The James Dylan motorcycle stunt show will be performing for visitors on both days, with jumps and tricks and daredevil fire displays.

Also on each day there will be a full rescue recovery demonstration in the main arena, with trucks, and other vehicles simulating a massive crash recovery, and giant cranes demonstrating the largest vehicles they can pick up.

Tragic site to be sold

A NEW home could soon be built on the land at Osbaston, near Oswestry, where a failed businessman murdered his wife and 15-year-old daughter before killing himself.

Christopher Foster set fire to Osbaston Hall after shooting Jill and Kirstie Foster in August 2008.

The gutted remains of the house have finally been demolished and the land is to be put on the market in the next few weeks.

'REIGN OF TERROR' HEAD FACES PANEL

by Graham Breeze

Tribunal - Eiros Hall

CHILDREN were mocked, humiliated and violently manhandled by their headteacher at a Welshpool nursery school, a tribunal heard in Cardiff this week.

Eiros Hall, the sacked head of Ardwyn Nursery and Infants School, stands accused of unacceptable professional conduct towards pupils.

She denies 14 allegations ranging from shouting at pupils in an aggressive manner to mocking a child whose father died in a road accident. She is accused of reducing children as young as four to tears then bragging about "breaking" them to shocked colleagues in an alleged reign of terror lasting years.

Mrs Hall mocked, humiliated and violently manhandled pupils who broke down and cried when they learned Mrs Hall was to take their class, the General Teaching Council for Wales (GTCW) heard.

She felt so free to intimidate youngsters at school she angrily ordered a six-year-old with a speech impediment to "talk properly", it was claimed.

Mrs Hall, in her late 50s, was headteacher at Ardwyn Nursery and Infants School, in Welshpool, from 1997 until her sacking last year.

Whistleblowers

The GTCW professional panel will hear from four whistleblowers who were all teachers at the school.

It will also hear evidence from eight teachers whose testimony supports Mrs Hall's denial of the allegations.

Elen Peate said she was shocked by her behaviour but unable to act as Mrs Hall doubled as the school child protection officer. As a newly graduated teacher she was inexperienced and initially unsure what to do.

None of the pupils can be identified and are referred to by letters of the alphabet.

Mrs Hall is also alleged to have targeted special needs pupils in incidents from September 2005 to 2009. Details of the allegations were only passed to the authorities when a new deputy head began.

Miss Peate described an alleged incident in September 2009 when Mrs Hall aggressively grabbed a four-year-old, pupil A, by the jumper and lifted him to his feet for dropping a spoon on the floor at lunch.

She broke down as she recalled being isolated at school after reports that she was a whistleblower leaked out. "I have no reason to make this up. It happened in front of my eyes," she told the tribunal.

The hearing continues and is due to run for four days.

At the launch of 'Love Oswestry' are organisers Reverend Russell Howes, Pastor of Albert Road Evangelical Church and Reverend Trevor Blackshaw, Holy Trinity Church, outside St Oswalds Parish Church in Oswestry. Picture: Simon Williams.

ORGANISERS of 'Love Oswestry 2012' launched the event at the St Oswald's Centre on Wednesday.

The Churches Together in Oswestry District representatives have been busy organising the fun day which takes place in Cae Glas Park on Saturday, June 16, from 12-4pm.

There will be music, food, demonstrations and hot air balloon rides with organisers hoping to attract 1,000 people.

"We want to connect with people of all ages who would otherwise never go near a church," said Reverend Trevor Blackshaw, one of the organisers.

"We want to see 1,000 guests come through the gates and believe people will be drawn to our centre-piece hot air balloon."

The day will include fun activities, including a bouncy castle, face painting, cage football and the opportunity to 'plaster the pastor' with wet sponges.

Mayor to give town a say over spending

OSWESTRY'S new mayor wants money coming to the town from the redevelopment of the livestock market to be spent wisely.

Councillor Martin Bennett warned that frittering away the money would be a gross betrayal of public trust when he was installed on Monday.

He wants the community to say what the needs of Oswestry are and how money should be spent. But he said one way money could be used was to offer more employment land.

A multi-million pound project to redevelop the livestock market, using part of the land to create a new superstore and cinema complex was controversially given the go-ahead last year.

News about the timescale for the development and the supermarket involved is expected within weeks.

The mayor said Oswestry Town Council was involved in writing an action plan for the area, to point to where development and funding should go.

"Even at a time of austerity, money will be coming to this area," he said.

"There will be funding from development with the Community Infrastructure Levy and the New Homes Bonus, and there will be some £4-6 million coming from the redevelopment of the Smithfield."

"I hope that money will be spent wisely."

"To fritter away the money would be a gross betrayal of public trust."

Mayor challenges town over vision for future

by Graham Breeze

THE NEW mayor of Oswestry has challenged the people of the town to give him their vision of the future and not leave it to others.

Councillor Martin Bennett said the coming 12 months were a 'pivotal' year of challenge and Oswestry people needed to look to the future and say how their town should develop.

He was handed the chain of office at a town council meeting on Monday by outgoing mayor, Councillor Cynthia Hawksley. The new deputy mayor is Councillor Chris Schofield.

In his acceptance speech, Councillor Bennett said: "I throw out a challenge to everyone in Oswestry to tell us what they want."

"Don't leave it to your neighbour, or your family or your friends or to someone else, and don't think that it doesn't matter if you say nothing."

"We will be working with volunteers to create a shared vision of what Oswestry should be and where we should be going. We want to know what is important to you."

"Trying to gauge the opinion of the silent majority will be a major challenge."

Councillor Bennett said questions the council had to discuss included Oswestry as a town of art, how the town could help its shopkeepers in the internet age.

"I see this year as a pivotal year of challenge all around: A year when we need to look to the future and plan to try to take advantage of the opportunities that are being offered, and hopefully and confidently, move forward."

He said the town should look forward to plans to promote tourism and build on investment in the Powis Market Hall.

He said he hoped the council would be organising open events at the Guildhall and launching its website.

Shropshire Council planners granted permission by delegated powers.

Objectors included the Oswestry branch of the Campaign to Protect Rural England.

Headmaster Douglas Robb said the extra parking would help the community.

The school applied to build the overspill car park on playing fields next to its Upper Brook Street site to stop drivers parking along the road.

Bosses of show are preparing for event

OSWESTRY Show continues to thrive in its 127th year with a new sponsor, new president and the expectation of 15,000 visitors at this summer's event.

The show, on August 4 at the Park Hall Showground, continues to be one of the highlights in the local calendar. This year sees Arthurs Vauxhall of Oswestry as the main sponsor.

Nigel Williams, managing director of Arthurs, is a former show chairman and president who has been associated with the event for more than 30 years.

He said: "Arthurs Vauxhall is cementing a firm relationship with the local community and providing a much needed boost to the show's finances in these difficult economic conditions."

The agricultural society has chosen Peter Thompson of Mile End Golf Club to be president for this year. He is one of the longest serving members of the show council and for many years the event was held on the Thompson family farm at Mile End.

Chairman Phil Jones said: "In this year of jubilee and Olympic celebrations about 15,000 visitors from both sides of the Welsh/English border will gather at the show, which still promotes all that is good about British agriculture, as well as offering other attractions to appeal to all walks of life."

Crews called to chimney blaze

FIREFIGHTERS from Oswestry dealt with a chimney fire at a house in Knockin on Monday night.

The alarm was raised at 5.50pm and the fire crew brought the fire under control by 6.30pm.

A special thermal imaging camera was used to ensure the fire had not spread through the chimney breast.

Pupils aiding schools in Kenya

PUPILS in a school in Shropshire are doing their best to help youngsters in Kenya.

Pupils at Holy Trinity Primary School in Oswestry are collecting spare change and carrying out odd jobs in support of the Shropshire-based Kenyan Schools Project.

The spare change has been going into empty tubes of Smarties that, once full, will be handed over to the charity.

The charity, run by Ellesmere couple Bill and Lynn Morris, will use the money to buy desks for poverty-stricken children at schools in Kenya.

Julie Hutson, year 5/6 teacher at Holy Trinity Primary School, said: "The project encourages team work, group participation and thinking about others less fortunate throughout the world."

Children at the school are also setting up a penpal scheme with children in Kenya.

Fund in memory of tragic teen helps town's young

A FUND set up in memory of a 15-year-old teenager from Oswestry who died when her tonsillitis was wrongly diagnosed as swine flu is helping children in the east of the town.

The Charlotte Hartey Foundation recently made an award of £1,000 to the Whole Life Christian Centre in Cabin Lane. The money will be used to install a children's play area within the garden which is being created on land behind the church.

Carol Thompson, spokesman for the Whole Life Christian Centre garden project, said: "We are delighted that The Charlotte Hartey Foundation have chosen to help us in creating this resource."

Hall appeal hits halfway mark

A NEW community hall near Oswestry may be well on the way to being finished but work continues to raise money to equip it.

The Llanrhaeadr ym Mochnant village hall will replace the old public hall.

This week the hall management committee revealed that its fixtures and fittings appeal had reached the halfway mark of £25,000.

"Whilst this is brilliant, it does of course mean that there remains a further £25,000 to be raised to meet the Appeal target of £50,000," spokeswoman, Sarah Suckley-Jones said.

The recent Queen Tribute Band Night at Llanyblodwel Hall raised £1,500 which included matched funding from Barclays Bank.

Fundraisers will have a stand at the Llanrhaeadr Carnival on June 2 on the recreation field where draw tickets will be on sale and the next big fundraising event will be a barn dance on June 8.

"The support has been invaluable and we thank organisers for the sterling work they do in raising much needed funds for local charities."

She said that an initial cash boost of £15,000, awarded by WREN, a not for profit business which awards grants to community, environmental and heritage projects across the UK, had allowed the project to get underway.

"We have also received additional grants and support from the Co-operative Community Fund, the Lions Club of Oswestry and the Shropshire Horticultural Society which have helped move the project closer to completion."

"Following the winter weather work has re-commenced and the garden will soon be ready."

As well as the children's play area the community garden will have different elements such as a sensory garden, seating areas and other places where people can relax.

The garden has a rainwater harvesting system which will mean that rainwater can be collected from the building's roof and used to water the garden.

Cabin Lane Church's new building, the Whole Life Christian Centre, was completed nearly two years ago and is used by a number of different groups.

Chance to enjoy all that jazz at venue

TRADITIONAL jazz returns to The Ironworks in Oswestry on Sunday with The Chicago Swing Katz appearing.

Promoter Jeff Matthews said artists would be appearing at the venue on the third Sunday of every month in a bid to establish jazz in the area. "We've been running the events for some time now and are attracting people from a wide area but the people of Oswestry don't seem to know about the performances," he said.

"I'm really keen for Oswestry to become known for jazz events." It takes place between 12.30 and 2.30pm and costs £4.

A jubilee theme at hill walk weekend

AN annual hill walking festival near Oswestry will have a Royal jubilee flavour to it this year, organisers have revealed.

Scarecrows, a ceilidh, a jubilee street party and a beacon will add fun to the popular Trefonen Hill Walk Weekend this year, which takes place from June 1-4.

There are signed walks of lengths to suit all levels of fitness from a 16-mile hike over the hills on June 2, to a range of gentle family walks on June 4.

This year a 24-hour jubilee stretch is being included, starting at 9pm on June 3 and finishing at 9pm the following day.

This gives people the chance to take part at a time of their choosing, in short, easy circuits of Trefonen's new trim trail.

The Royal celebrations will continue when a jubilee beacon will light up the sky above Oswestry on June 4. It will be the final spectacle in a series of events arranged as part of the Trefonen Hill Walk Weekend.

Organisers say if it is a clear night beacons will be visible across Shropshire and neighbouring counties.

The beacon will be lit at 9.30pm on Mynydd Myfyr, the hill above Trefonen.

Full details of the Trefonen Hill Walk Weekend can be found at www.trefonen-hillwalk.com or at tourist information centres.

Village left out of plan to upgrade broadband

by Graham Breeze

A VILLAGE near Oswestry will not be included in a £2.5 billion upgrade of BT internet broadband services.

Whittington has been left out of the telecom giant's plan to bring super-fast fibre-based broadband to two-thirds of the UK's homes and businesses by the end of 2014.

The phone company said it was not 'commercially viable' to invest in the remaining third of the country, including Whittington and Gobowen. Shropshire Councillor Steve Charmley, who lives in Whittington, said he had been led by BT to believe that the village would be included in the improvements.

He said he was now resting his hopes on Shropshire Council, which has plans to spend £16million of its own and Government money on bringing to the county faster broadband by the end of 2015.

"I am very disappointed that Whittington has been excluded from the BT upgrade," said Councillor Charmley.

"Considering that Whittington hosts one of the biggest BT bases in Europe, it would seem logical that their immediate locality would be considered a commercial priority."

A spokesman for BT said: "Unfortunately it would not be commercially viable for BT to upgrade at the moment."

Look out for winning balloon

STUDENTS at a Shropshire school have released balloons to raise money for one of Britain's leading children's hospitals – and are now asking for the public's help in retrieving the tags attached to the balloons.

Hundreds of biodegradable balloons were launched from Oswestry School to help raise funds for Alder Hey Children's Hospital in Liverpool.

The grand lift-off was held during the school's sports day and pupils gave a £2 donation in order to have their names put on a tag attached to the balloons.

Oswestry School's arts and drama teacher Mandy Price said: "Members of the public are now encouraged to return any tags they find to the school and we will then be able to see whose balloon travelled the furthest."

"The winning pupil will receive £35 prize money and we will also be sending a cash prize to the person who posted the balloon tag to us," she said.

Ramblers point way

OSWESTRY ramblers group played a role in the launch of the Oswestry loop of the Shropshire Way at the weekend.

Members helped with signposting the short walks organised as part of the launch held in conjunction with the Walkers are Welcome weekend in the town.

Today ramblers will head for Llangollen's Horseshoe pass for a walk. Cars will be leaving the Lloyd Street car park in Oswestry at 10am.

On Sunday there will be a 10-mile walk in the Llanidloes area leaving Central Car park at 9am and a leisurely walk through Brogyntyn Park in Oswestry, leaving from Central car park at 10am.

Pupils' no uniform day to aid cause

YOUNGSTERS defied the rules when they turned up at a village primary school minus their uniforms, but escaped a dressing down from staff because it was all in the name of charity.

Children at Gobowen Primary School gave up their normal smart uniforms last Thursday and were allowed to wear their normal clothes in support of teaching assistant Cerys Roberts who was walking 26 miles in London for charity this weekend.

Every child paid 50p to be allowed to wear clothes of their choice with the only stipulation that one item had to be red or pink.

The pupils collection raised £90 which will go to Miss Roberts's fundraising effort.

Readings raise cash for hospice

A NON-stop reading of scenes based on the theme of marriage from Shakespeare's plays has raised £350 for Severn Hospice.

The Merry Wives of Shakespeare took place in The Square, Shrewsbury, at the end of April, featuring Shropshire Drama Company's cast for its The Merry Wives of Windsor play and friends from other drama groups.

SDC member and event organiser Joanna Purslow said: "We were very pleased with our cash total."

Big revamp of market hall is inspired by top designer

The Lord Lieutenant of Shropshire, The Earl of Powis, Councillor Cynthia Hawksley, Councillor Martin Bennett and chairman of Shropshire Council Councillor Malcolm Pate.

THE wraps have been taken off the new look Oswestry Powis Hall indoor market following a revamp inspired by international designer, Sir Terence Conran.

More than £125,000 has been spent on bringing the 1960s building into the 21st century, with new canopies, brighter lighting, a lift, and wi-fi internet.

The Earl of Powis, John George Herbert unveiled a plaque to mark the facelift for the building which bears his family name.

And he said he was very impressed with the new look, calling it "really smart". The vast up to date. The lift is invaluable for people with mobility problems."

Councillor Cynthia Hawksley said: "We have received many favourable comments already. More people are using the market and we hope many more will come to see what is on offer."

"Markets are a vital part of the heritage and the future of this town and I am proud at both the national and local interest that is being shown in markets. They are not just a retail experience but are valuable tourism, employment and community hubs."

Sue Watts, Councillor Betty Gull and Julia Walkey survey the new look Oswestry indoor market.

Anti-theft bins could be bought for village

ANTI-theft bins could be bought for a village near Oswestry after its three smaller bins disappeared.

West Felton used to have three bins, one by the village war memorial, one on the playing field and one next to the pub. But all three have mysteriously vanished in recent months.

Now parish councillors are looking for replacements that can be either fitted with locks or concreted into the ground.

Ever since the old ones disappeared parish councillors say they have collected a bin bag of rubbish a week.

Sonja D'Arcy, clerk to the parish council, said: "It is up to the parish council to replace the bins and it is something we are looking into at the minute."

"It is in the early stages but we are looking at ways of stopping the bins being stolen again. I don't understand why they have been taken."

She said one idea was to concrete the bins into the ground.

Councillor Steve Hawthorn said: "What we don't want it for the same thing to happen again. There are various bins that have been designed to reduce the opportunity of theft and damage - such as the metal they are made out of, the design and ones with locks on. Once they are there we want them to stay there."

Rally date for young farmers in county

SHROPSHIRE young farmers will be heading for the Oswestry area for their annual county rally on June 23.

This year's rally is being held at Buckley Farm, Maesbury, the home of Malcolm and Anne Roberts.

The rally is the highlight of the YFC calendar, showcasing the talents of members from Shropshire's 19 young farmers club's from around the county.

The theme this year is Olympics. A wide range of competitions varying from stock judging, sheep shearing, floral art, opening ceremony dance, dry synchronised swimming, comedy Olympics event and many more will take place throughout the day.

There are a large number of home section competitions which members have taken time to complete such as making a paper mache Olympic torch, an Olympic cities theme club exhibit, photo competitions, club scrapbooks and cookery competitions.

There is also a pre-rally day on June 10 at the same venue when various competitions will take place throughout the day including fence erecting, farm business development, crop judging, welding and team cookery.

Politicians and family say farewell to former mayor

POLITICIANS and councillors from throughout Shropshire turned out in force to pay their respects at the funeral of former Oswestry mayor Doris Barrow.

The funeral of Mrs Barrow, mother of current Shropshire Council leader Keith Barrow, was held at St Oswald's Church in Oswestry last Friday.

Mrs Barrow was a member of one of the county's most prominent political families. As well as her son being the leader of Shropshire Council, her daughter-in-law Joyce is a county councillor and her grandchildren Kirsty and James served on the former Oswestry

Pellets boiler bid for school

A PRIMARY school near Oswestry could soon be more environmentally friendly with plans to install a biomass wood pellet boiler.

Shropshire Council is planning to install the boiler at Bryn Offa School in Pant. A report said it was in line with plans by the authority to reduce carbon emissions.

It said: "Money has been made available from central government under the renewable heat incentive to reduce the carbon footprint of all county buildings.

"The county is starting the programme by carrying out feasibility studies with regard to installing biomass wood pellet boilers, in conjunction with oil fired heating systems in primary schools.

"The aim of the application is to obtain planning permission to install a containerised wood clad boiler house sited within the car park, underground flow and return pipework will then feed the main boiler-house and connect onto the existing flow and return pipework."

borough authority. Mrs Barrow died at Wrexham Maelor Hospital last month at the age of 87 after a long illness.

She became an Oswestry Town councillor for Castle ward in 1999 and served until July 2010. She was mayor in 2007.

Hundreds of mourners attended her funeral service in Oswestry yesterday. Among them was Government cabinet minister and MP for North Shropshire Owen Paterson.

The Northern Ireland secretary was accompanied by his wife Rose.

Many Shropshire councillors attended the service including Oswestry-based representatives Martin Bennett, Bill Benyon, Vince Hunt and Shropshire Council speaker David Lloyd.

And many Oswestry town councillors who served alongside Mrs Barrow were also present.

Oswestry Town Council clerk David Preston gave a reading, as did Mrs Barrow's grandson James Barrow.

Her son Keith gave the eulogy and told how his mother worked tirelessly all her life, first when she took over a corner shop and then when she became an agent for a carpet company which turned into a business on Oswestry's Bailey Street. She worked until she was 82, he said.

Councillor Barrow said he had often tried to get her to retire, adding: "But you didn't make her do anything she didn't want to."

COMMENTWrestling with the conundrum which is Lembit

A FORMER MP will make an absolute fool of himself and wreck any trace of credibility he still clings to, when he enters the wrestling ring in Welshpool.

Lembit Opik will take part in a 'staged' contest as part of the bill as wrestling returns to Welshpool Town Hall on Saturday, June 2.

The antics of the former Montgomeryshire member will no doubt ensure a full house for the promoters and provide a 'court jester' style performance for grappling fans. But what damage will his appearance cause to his failing image.

Last week the former politician spent more than an hour being ridiculed on Britain's Got Talent – spending the entire programme dressed as a Buckingham Palace guard, complete with bearskin.

This follows appearances on just about every 'reality' show being screened and a bizarre appearance on a pop video.

We all have to find a way to make a living and Lembit is clearly trying to create a new

BREEZE ABOUT TOWN

career for himself after shocking the political world by losing the 'safest seat' of Montgomeryshire.

I like Lembit. I think he was a very good MP and was doing a very good job for Montgomeryshire until the bright lights proved too much of an attraction.

There are scores of people and businesses in the area owing a great debt to him for the efforts made on their behalf – but he really has gone too far now.

And to think I once voted for him!

I HAVE been fortunate to meet the outgoing Mayor of Oswestry on several occasions. She handed over the mayoral chain this week and can be proud of the manner in which she has held office.

Councillor Cynthia Hawksley has handled the position with great dignity and has earned respect for leading the town council in a positive manner during a difficult period.

Councillor Martin Bennett is the new Mayor and says he will be working with volunteers to create a shared vision of what Oswestry should be and where the town should be going. I am sure we all wish Councillor Bennett but he will be well aware that he has a hard act to follow.

NORTH Shropshire MP Owen Paterson has vowed to "battle on" with calls for the A5 between Oswestry and Shrewsbury to become fully dual carriageway. But the MP said the work would not happen any time soon because of the "hideous national debt" the Government was having to contend with. Mr Paterson is supporting local campaigners who have made fresh calls for improvement at the notorious Shottaton crossroads near Ruyton-XI-Towns following a crash.

This is an area of the A5 that always scares me when I drive past and it's been that way for years. How much blood has to be spilled before someone finally takes notice.

Keep fighting Mr Paterson.

AS A football follower it would be hard to finish this column without referring to Sunday's amazing end to the Premiership season.

Millions watched in disbelief as Manchester City turned around a 2-1 deficit to win 3-2 in injury time and clinch the title at the expense of arch-enemies Manchester United.

This was TV entertainment at its best. And brilliantly produced with viewers able to watch both teams in action at the same time.

Valuation of treasures helps boost roof appeal

Halls' fine art director Jeremy Lamond values a Moorcroft trial vase and pedestal dish for Diane Seager, from Llanymynech.

EXPERTS from a leading fine art auction house gave the Llanfyllin Public Institute Roof Appeal a £547 boost by holding a successful antiques valuation event in the town on Friday.

A steady stream of people from Llanfyllin and surrounding areas attend the event over four hours, bringing with them an assortment of "treasures" from their homes.

Sadly, there were no great discoveries on the day but the majority of people went away smiling, having discovered the history and value of a wide assortment of items. The most valuable items included a £2,000 Art Deco three stone ruby and diamond ring, an £800 Victorian Birmingham silver three piece tea set, an £800 Victorian 18 carat gentleman's gold pocket watch, a £700 Moorcroft limited edition vase in the Bulls Wood design by Rachel Bishop and a £350 majolica royal commemorative jug by Sandford Pottery, which dated to 1860.

by Graham Breeze

Some of the more unusual items were a £600 brass sextant by H. Hughes, London 1850, a £250 blunderbuss, a £300 Japanese bone handled tanto and waki zashi and a £150 Victorian officer's sword.

Of prints and books valued, the most notable was an early 19th century album containing various watercolours and drawings by different artists of European travels and transcripts of poems by Lord Byron, which was valued at up to £500.

The team of valuers from Halls comprised fine art director Jeremy Lamond, pictures and books specialist William Lacey, silver and books valuer Maryanne Lineker-Mobberley and jewellery and watches specialist Derek Ainsworth.

A contribution of £2 for each item valued all went to Llanfyllin Public Institute Roof Appeal.

Mr Lamond with Stanley Prust from Llanfyllin and a Victorian officer's sword valued at up to £150.

WHEN IS BEST TIME TO REQUEST REVIEW OF NHS CARE FUNDING DENIAL DECISION?

Advertisement feature

Q: My mother had to go into care two years ago because she was diagnosed with dementia and I was working away and couldn't look after her. My brother and I applied for NHS Continuing Health Care Funding on her behalf but the application was turned down. Since then her condition has worsened and her care needs are even greater. My brother says we should ask for a review of the original funding decision but I think we should wait until she gets worse and then appeal the decision. What should be best?

A: Under the NHS "continuing care" scheme, care can be arranged and funded by the NHS to meet physical or mental health needs. People who are eligible do not need to contribute towards the fees, whilst those who are not eligible and have capital of more than £23,250 have to pay all the fees. However, the rules are often not made clear and a great many people have missed out on funding as a result of this.

You should be aware that on April 1st new measures were introduced which imposed a six month time limit for requesting a review of any funding decision made between 1st April 2004 and 31st March 2011. This means that any new claims must be registered before 30th September 2012. With nursing home fees rising all the time and the funding system being so complex, a great many people have ended up having to sell their home to pay the fees, when they were in fact eligible for funding. Now those people will need to move quickly to stand a chance of recouping the money they paid.

Even in cases where the person who was being cared for has since died, it is worth seeking legal advice about requesting a review if there is any concern that funding was wrongly denied.

Further information relating to this question is available from Victoria Wilson, a Senior Solicitor with GHP Legal. For information relating to any other legal matter please call GHP Legal on 01691 659194, visit www.ghplegal.co.uk or attend one of our FREE legal diagnostic clinics every Wednesday 12-5pm (no appointment necessary).

School's football teams in trip to US

BUDDING footballers from a school in Shropshire have followed in the footsteps of David Beckham and Robbie Keane by taking their talents stateside.

Almost 30 students from Oswestry's The Marches School took part in the footballing tour of Florida. They played against American teams including Cooper City, Maitland High School, FC Orlando and FC America.

And between matches the year eight, nine and 10 students had a chance to soak up American culture, visiting the Kennedy Space Centre and enjoying some of the famous Orlando theme parks.

The group enjoyed a five-night stay in Fort Lauderdale in the south of Florida before heading up state to Orlando for the remainder of their 10-day tour.

While in Fort Lauderdale, the students played a number of matches against some highly rated American teams. Graham Dyke, PE teacher at The Marches, said: "The American teams were very strong and the boys played really well."

Before leaving Fort Lauderdale, experienced some more American sporting culture, enjoying the opening game in Miami's brand new stadium where they watched a live baseball game between the Miami Marlins and the New York Yankees.

EU to blame for water situation

WE'VE all been reading about water shortages, hosepipe bans and also the lack of new reservoir construction despite our rising population.

Indeed, some reservoirs have been closed.

We should have guessed that part of our problem in all this would be the EU and here it is: COM (2887) 414 final on 'Addressing the challenge of water scarcity and droughts in the European Union'.

For those who don't have internet, the main thrust of this is that there must be a hierarchy of priorities, first being that customers should be encouraged, by price structure, to be more efficient with water usage.

Only when this sort of avenue is exhausted should additional infrastructure, such as reservoirs, be introduced.

'Stakeholder consultations' and the like show that this approach would be agreeable - well it would, wouldn't it? This means that our water companies, with no competition remember, are being encouraged to put up their prices and not to spend any of their profits on reservoirs, inter-company pipelines etc.

Our Government, of course, is under orders to shoulder any blame itself.

It isn't allowed to say 'not our fault, voters, it's the EU that tells us what we must do'.

The only answer is to change the Government completely, as soon as possible.

EU court of rights is ill thought out

WINSTON Churchill suggested a human rights court in Europe after World War II - only for the minor countries that had not yet attained the political clout and experience in this field.

Today's court is a typical product of the European Union - an ill-thought-out policy made on the hoof.

Similarly, we have the European Arrest Warrant; conceived to combat terrorism it quickly adopted the European system of removing the political and administration phases and relying purely on the judiciary.

Has the human rights court ever saved an EU citizen from this warrant? You will find that, should you be served with it your human rights are non-existent.

Clarification over reporting injuries

IN response to the article on April 26 regarding the reporting of work injuries, it is important to clarify the following:

The Health and Safety Executive is not proposing any changes to record keeping of work injuries. The change is designed to reduce the paperwork associated with reporting incidents and workers, and to align with the requirements of workers obtaining a 'fit note' from their GP.

Furthermore, the comment made by GHP Legal's Mr Williams - 'injuries such as losing the odd finger will fail to make it onto the HSE's database' - is incorrect. Such an injury would need to be reported.

Turbines or pylons will affect views

IN Mid Wales we have two sites where dioramas have been placed, as the 360-degree views there are particularly impressive.

One is at the 'Two Tumps' at the western end of the 'oldest road in Wales' on the Kerry Ridgeway. The other is at the Wynford Vaughan-Thomas memorial above Aberhosen on the Dylife to Machynlleth road.

If the proposals for wind-farms and associated metal pylon lines come about the views from those locations will be affected. At the Kerry Ridgeway there will be an almost 360-degree view of turbines or pylons and at the Wynford Vaughan-Thomas memorial about a 260-degree view of turbines.

A WELSHPOOL firm has signed a deal to sponsor a community radio station dedicated to green programming.

Organic Energy is the lead sponsor of Kingston Green Radio on 87.9FM until May 25

Bigger and better promise for heroes' charity fun day

WELSHPOOL'S biggest annual charity event is to go ahead again this year and is set to be bigger and better than ever.

The fundraiser which has helped raise thousands for the Help For Heroes charity over the years will be staged at Ysgol Maesydyre on June 30 and this time the organisers will be raising cash for a new cause - The Afghan Fund.

The event is organised by Harry Gannon, Paul Jones and the Montgomeryshire Parachute Regiment and relies on the generous nature of the Welshpool people to split the money between several local charities.

Leaflet offers car kit advice

NEW advice and guidance has been released for the growing number of young drivers who are 'souping up' their cars in the Welshpool area.

Modifying older cars with new parts which can often fall foul of the law.

However, a new information leaflet, Mission: Modify, has been produced by Powys County Council. The credit card-sized leaflet, the first of its kind in Wales, includes information about body-kits, window tints and exhausts.

"Many modifications can put you on the wrong side of the law, contribute to failing an MOT test or even invalidate your insurance," said Kate Davies, of the road safety unit.

At least with the help of this leaflet, drivers in Powys can gain the knowledge they need to modify a vehicle correctly so that it is safe and also legal.

For your free Mission: Modify leaflet, contact the unit on road.safety@powys.gov.uk

Other causes set to benefit include: Montgomeryshire Emergency Doctors, Sally Shining Star (A Cystic fibrosis fund), The Stroke Club, The Breathing Club and St John's Ambulance.

There will be even more activities and special bands than ever.

Amazing

Harry and Paul are hosting the big event that they have hosted for the past four years and their team are aiming to make it bigger and better and hope to raise more than what was raised last year, which was £6,706.

Cathy Beech who is helping the organisers said: "The people of Welshpool stepped up to the plate last year with a whopping £6,706 and brought it home how lucky we are to be in such an amazing community."

"The whole event is supported by many local businesses and all the people on the day that work are dedicated to this event and become involved because of the passion that Paul and Harry and their families have for this event."

"Everyone's generosity means that all funds raised go to the charities."

You can purchase tickets at £12 which includes a hog roast and buffet from Hairlines in Welshpool, Dai Roberts at the Orange Shop in Welshpool and from the Montgomery Parachute Regiment members. Contact Harry Gannon on 07772 090021, Nikki on 07357 292811 or Cathy Beech on 07852 454290 for more details.

Open day to aid cancer charity

On hand during the open day will be spin instructor Jessica Stait, seen here spinning in the new studio.

AN open day is being held at the Armory in Welshpool when the organisers plan to raise money for the Marie Curie Cancer Care Charity.

The open day takes place on Saturday, May 26 when there will be a chance for everyone to have a look at what the centre now offers.

There will be a bouncy castle in the main hall from 10am to 1pm with a spin challenge from 10am to noon along with free outdoor classes from 2pm to 4pm.

Rikki Lloyds will be supplying a food stall and drinks will be available throughout the day.

The bar will open at 2pm.

There will be live music from 5pm to 8pm.

There will be a chance for visitors to see the new ladies gym, studio room, members room and what classes are available.

Police in pledge as scams on increase

POLICE in Powys have pledged to crack down on the rising problem of cold calling and internet fraud in the wake of a 100 per cent rise in offences.

Dyfed-Powys Police said it was working with other agencies and its community safety partnerships to tackle the issue.

The force said it has seen an increase of more than 100 per cent in the reported number of these types of offences in 2011-12 and it is estimated that about 40 per cent of victims will have lost money.

Superintendent Aled Davies said: "We have been aware of cold callers and internet fraud for many years now and have been issuing warnings and advice to our residents. But the increase we've seen in reports over the past year is significant."

"We are therefore working with other agencies that specialise in this field in order to tackle this and prevent people in our communities becoming victims. We have always advised 'if in doubt, keep them out' in relation to cold callers at your door - and exactly the same principle applies here. Don't give people access to your details or your computer."

Anyone experiencing problems should call 101 or 0845 330200.

Talks open on design of multi-million play areas

by Graham Breeze

WELSHPOOL is to get two new playgrounds and a football pitch as part of a multi-million pound development, and Chronicle readers can help to shape how it will look.

A public consultation period was launched on Saturday inviting people to have their say on the recreation facilities within the new Burgess Land development on Red Bank.

Work started in April on preparing the land ready for dozens of houses to be built, and as part of the agreement, there will be an onus on state-of-the-art playing areas for children of all ages.

Shape

"There are to be two new playgrounds plus a football field incorporated in the new housing development," said Town Clerk Robert Robinson.

"The consultation is seeking views of residents and children about the style and shape of the new playgrounds. One playground is for older children and one is for younger children."

Three designs have been submitted for consideration by professional companies Playdale, Komplan and Wickstead and the town council will decide on which company to work with once the consultation period has been completed.

The plans are on display at the Tourist Information Centre until June 1 and children from the town's schools are also being consulted.

Chronicle readers are encouraged to contact the town council with their views.

Work on the much-heralded housing development on the Burgess Land above Brookfield Road is now underway by contractors S J Roberts and the existing play area and football pitch have been removed.

Conmen warning after £170 theft

TWO 'despicable' men claiming to be from the water board conned their way into the home of an elderly woman in Welshpool before stealing £170 in cash.

Officers have warned people to be on their guard following the incident in the Red Bank area of the town between 2.30pm and 2.45pm on Wednesday.

The woman, in her 70s, answered the door to two men who claimed they wanted to check her water supply.

Detective Inspector Diane Davies said: "The offenders are entirely despicable."

"They have targeted a vulnerable lady who lives alone. The value of what they have taken pales against the upset they have caused."

Perennials talk at gardening group

Welshpool and district horticultural society meets tonight when Vere Cattermole will speak about perennials. The meeting starts at 7.30pm at the Corn Exchange.

Tea hostesses will be Dorothy Thwaite and Margaret Edwards. The competition is for a single flowering stem of a tree, shrub, bulb, perennial or annual from members' own gardens.

The annual coffee morning will be held at the Church House on May 19, between 10am and noon.

Sainsbury's seeking a new charity to support for year

A SUPERMARKET in a Mid Wales town is on the look out for a new charity it can support over the next 12 months.

Sainsbury's in Welshpool said it was looking for its fourth charity of the year and will be holding an in-store vote until May 23.

The winning charity will be announced in June and will receive a year's fundraising and support for the store staff and customers.

The retailer is asking people to put forward the names of charities based in Welshpool that are important to them.

Time stands still in town centre after clock stops working

TIME has stood still in Welshpool – literally – after the iconic town hall clock stopped working.

The town centre building is scheduled to be renovated this summer, and will be covered up once the Olympic torch has passed through at the end of this month.

Until then, it will be permanently midday on the clock face.

The clock ticked to a halt due to a problem with the weights system, which has corroded.

"There is a need for scaffolding to repair the clock so we will wait for the external refurbishment to begin at the start of June," said town clerk Robert Robinson.

"The clock will be repaired and put back into full use at that time."

"In the meantime the clock will remain at midday for a while, which will obviously cause confusion with some."

"It's a bit of a pain but unfortunately it's one of those things that can't be helped," he added.

A shortlist of nominations will be drawn up after the closing date and the store's staff will then invite the three charities that best fit the needs of the community into the store to talk about how Sainsbury's could help them.

The store will then choose a charity partner for the next 12 months.

A store spokeswoman said: "Last year, Sainsbury's stores and their customers helped more than 1,000 charities and organisations across the UK through fundraising and volunteering and gave more than £1.5 million of support to local communities."

"It is great that Sainsbury's local charity partner scheme is back in Welshpool for its fourth year and customers in town can vote until May 23."

"The winning charity will be announced in June and will receive a year's worth of fundraising and support from the store's staff and customers."

Discount shop opens in town

A WELSHPOOL-based company has opened up a new shop in Shrewsbury. Olivers, on Claremont Street, is the third branch in the chain of the father and son-owned discount shop business. Outside the shop are Les Oliver, left and Rob Oliver.

Lembit is intent on wrestling challenge

FORMER Montgomery MP Lembit Opik is not backing out of his outrageous plan to fight 18 stone Bad Boy Kade Callous in a wrestling challenge at Welshpool Town Hall.

Callous has raised the stakes in the night of professional wrestling on Jubilee Saturday, June 2 with a six minute rant on the internet urging Opik to withdraw or face the consequences.

"Surrender now or you will be removed from the ring on a stretcher, he said. 'I will tear you apart piece by piece and the only winner will be the undertaker.'"

Opik said: "I don't really want to fight this fellow but it is a question of honour, and may the best man win."

This scrap is a top of the bill event of wrestling promoted by Rainbow Records of Welshpool Market Hall and follows on from an altercation the two men had at the same venue on April 13.

Master of Ceremonies and ex-BBC Radio Shropshire presenter, Mike Breeze said: "This is starting to get out of hand. I urge all fans to buy tickets early as we are heading for a sell-out."

Tickets are £10 adults and £8 children, available from Rainbow Records, Welshpool Market Hall, and Ego Games, Broad Street, Newtown. Doors open 7pm for more information ring the promoters on 01686 640557.

Local Loyalty mascot Jim with Nigel from Sio yr Oen, in Llanidloes.

A NEW scheme to offer all-year-round discounts from shops, initially in the Mid Wales towns of Welshpool, Montgomery, Llanfair Caereinion and Llanidloes, has been launched.

Local Loyalty Powys is a new discount membership card scheme open to those who choose to support independent retailers and traders.

The scheme has been launched by Rachel Hitchcock who said: "This is an idea for traders to give customers discounts or special offers which will help encourage people to shop on home ground, rather than travel to larger cities."

"Local Loyalty Powys is a genuinely local project, managed in Powys, for Powys. The aim is to encourage people to keep shopping in their high street & local communities," she added.

Rachel, who lives in Llanfair Caereinion, says she loves the area and wants to help promote its businesses by introducing the new discount card scheme to "keep Powys money ringing through Powys tills".

"We can't fix the UK's recession, but we can help the local economy by keeping businesses alive. The more people who shop locally, the more chance there is for the range of diverse and independent businesses that brings so much unique character to our high streets and communities".

By becoming a member, you will receive a range of discounts and special offers from participating businesses.

Rachel's dog, Jim is the mascot and he is often to be seen in his branded jacket, promoting Local Loyalty Powys.

The scheme launches at the end of May and membership cards will be available from Celtic Company at Number Fourteen and WR Davies in Welshpool, and PC-Q and Earthlight in Llanidloes.

More information can be found on www.LocalLoyaltyPowys.com along with a full list of participating businesses. Or you can phone 0796 773 1706 with any queries about the scheme.

"Think local, shop local and help yourself and your family save money," said Rachel.

Gallery course on clay sculpture

A CLAY sculpture course, with international artist Maxmillian Baccanello, will be held at the Willow Gallery in Oswestry from tomorrow until Sunday.

Those on the course will learn, over three days, how to make a 1/3 scale nude figure.

Materials will be supplied and the final sculpture can be taken home.

The artist studied fine art in Florence, Italy, and has recently had work accepted by the Royal Society of Portrait Sculptors.

For further details call the gallery on 01691 657575.

Tandoori to host charity night fun

A TANDOORI restaurant in Oswestry will hold a charity night this month to celebrate the anniversary of its opening - 36 years ago.

George and Julie Miah will open the Simla on May 24 to raise funds for good causes. The annual fundraising nights make about £2,000 for charity each year.

As well as a four-course meal there will be Motown entertainment, quizzes and a raffle.

Chairman elected

THE annual meeting of the Oswestry Recorded Music Society was held on May 12 when Bryan Evans was elected to serve as chairman.

Children queue up as work on play area finally ends

WORK has finally been completed on the £102,000 showpiece play area in Oswestry's Cae Glas Park, with new equipment installed for visitors young and old.

Children have been queuing up at the gates ready to use the new features, which have been installed over the past few months.

The play area is the result of plans drawn up by town councillors working with the Oswestry Youth Council and local primary schools.

Town councillor Cynthia Hawksley said: "The children absolutely loved it. People seemed to be pleased with what we have come up with after the consultation with the youth and children,

Chance to have say on homes

OSWESTRY people are being encouraged to have their say on how the town's housing and employment land should be developed.

Shropshire Council has been talking to parish and town councils over about which sites in the area may be suitable for development, and the preferred sites are now being discussed.

The talks are part of the Site Allocations and Management of Development (SAMDev) policy, which will set out the guidelines for the future development of Shropshire.

The preferred options document sets out the potential sites for about 8,000 homes which could be built by 2026 in the county.

The consultation started in March and has now been extended to July.

Consultation meetings will be held in Oswestry on May 24.

A drop-in session will run from 5.30pm to 7pm at the Memorial Hall and then a public meeting will be held from 7pm to 9pm.

"When the play area opened, there were queues of people waiting to have a go. It was wonderful that it was ready for the bank holiday. The children really were enjoying it."

Equipment includes a spire net, climbing boulders, a roundabout, a climbing frame, a skate simulation and exercise equipment for older people who jog in the park.

Healthy

Shropshire Councillor Martin Bennett said: "The playground has already proved very popular with people of all ages. We had been told in the past that the playground did not cater for older children. Now we have equipment not only for older youngsters but also for adults to help them to keep healthy in a fun way.

"We hope people will go along and try out the equipment."

It was planned for the park to open in time for the Easter holidays but the recent snowy weather meant that the laying of the concrete was delayed, which in turn delayed the opening of the park.

The money has come after negotiations between Oswestry Town Council and Shropshire Council over what to do with funds approved by the former borough authority from a development next to the park.

Councillor Cynthia Hawksley takes a look at the climbing wall in the new play area in Cae Glas Park, Oswestry.

Traveller family to be given home site

ALTERNATIVE accommodation will be made available to house a gypsy family which is battling to stay on land near Oswestry, a planning hearing is set to be told.

Travellers Jerry and Michelle Berry are appealing against a decision by Shropshire councillors to refuse them permission to turn a former rubbish dump opposite Henlle Park Golf Club at Gobowen into a gypsy camp.

A two-day appeal hearing later this month will hear claims from Shropshire Council that alternative accommodation at Park Hall travellers' site near Whittington will soon be available for the family and the councillors' refusal decision was correct.

Shropshire Council has lodged its reasons for refusing the couple permission to site four chalets and four touring caravans, as well as washroom and kitchen facilities, on the land opposite the prestigious golf club.

A report said that it was anticipated that the Park Hall extension would open by the end of 2014.

The report said: "A three-year temporary permission would allow sufficient time for the current occupants to be accommodated on the Park Hall site or an alternative site that will have emerged through the development plan process."

Awards night celebrates all our successes

THE Oswestry Chamber of Commerce would like to congratulate all of the winners of the Chronicle Business Awards.

It was a pleasure to support these awards as it is so important to celebrate success and reward hard work.

It was also a very pleasant evening at the Lion Quays and a good time was had by all.

The guest speaker, Malcolm Walker, who started Iceland a number of years ago, provides a local example of how a small business can grow into a huge success and should be an inspiration to all new and emerging businesses.

Despite the recent weather we are approaching the first of the summer festivities and I'm sure all will be looking forward to the jubilee celebrations.

Oswestry, along with the rest of the country, will, I'm sure, be very busy with lots of events going on, and this increased footfall should be good for local retailers and traders.

The chamber is waiting to hear if Oswestry has been awarded the status of becoming a 'Portas Town Pilot'. We have our collective fingers crossed.

Whatever the outcome, the application has already begun to get people in the town talking about its future and the role that all can play, and lots of different groups are beginning to talk to each other to address common issues.

I would also like to take this opportunity to welcome Ingrid Knowles as a new member of the management committee and we look forward to the contribution she will make in the coming months.

The next meeting of the chamber takes place on 6 June, from 6pm to 7pm in the Wynnstay Hotel.

If you have a business interest in the town do come along and join in, you will be warmly welcomed.

More information about the chamber and future meetings is on the website www.oswestrychamber.org.uk, or e-mail info@oswestrychamber.org.uk

Warning of funding change to affect family law cases

by Graham Breeze

Alison Monaghan

FOLLOWING Legal Aid reforms, a local solicitor is urging separating couples to sort out problems relating to their children as soon as possible.

Alison Monaghan, a solicitor in the Oswestry office of leading Shropshire and North Wales law firm GHP Legal, warned that the introduction of new contracts for the delivery of civil legal aid, together with the introduction of revised eligibility criteria, will affect every aspect of family law including matters involving children.

Store deal will be examined

THE sale of Shropshire and Mid Wales supermarket chain Harry Tuffins to the Co-op has been referred to the Office of Fair Trading.

The OFT says it will look into the deal - for which no price has been revealed - to make sure shoppers are not being short-changed.

The deal would see all ten family-owned Tuffins stores transfer to the Midcounties Co-operative, safeguarding 449 jobs.

Tuffins has stores in Craven Arms, Bishop's Castle, Ludlow and Cleobury Mortimer in Shropshire and Churchstoke, Machynlleth and Knighton in Powys. It has a further three stores in Gloucestershire and Flintshire.

The OFT says it now wants to hear from anybody affected by the deal.

It says its investigation will centre on whether the deal will result in the 'substantial lessening' of competition for local shoppers.

"When the new Legal Aid Bill is implemented it will affect access to public funding in all private family law proceedings," said Miss Monaghan.

"That includes contact to children (access) cases, residence (custody) cases and all cases regarding children where there is no involvement with either social services or domestic violence.

Children

"Anyone wishing to apply to the court for an order concerning a child will not be able to do so after April 1, 2013 with the assistance of public funding, so unless they can afford to pay their own legal fees they will not be able to get assistance from a family lawyer.

"The new tendering system will mean less law firms gaining contracts for supply of legal aid services and the pressure on legal aid expenditure will be enormous.

"Whilst the Ministry of Justice has said the reforms will target resources at people who need legal support the most, the reality is that there is unlikely to be sufficient funds to meet demand and people may end up having to seek advice from solicitors outside their area - which in turn will add to their costs in terms of travel. I would urge any couples to deal with contact and residency matters as soon as possible."

Chef goes back to his roots

Chef Adam Gaunt-Evans is opening his first restaurant.

A CHEF who has worked at some of the world's leading restaurants has launched a new venture near Oswestry.

Adam Gaunt-Evans has been on a 10-year culinary journey that has taken him from the kitchens of the famous Dorchester hotel and Michelin starred Greenhouse restaurant in Mayfair, to the seven starred Burj al Arab in Dubai.

Mr Gaunt-Evans is now opening his first restaurant, called Adam Gaunt-Evans at The Swan, in the picturesque Ceiriog Valley near Oswestry.

The 30-year-old said: "I've experienced a wide range of cultures, cuisine and cooking styles over the past 10 years and I've had the privilege of working with some of the best chefs in the world."

'Brilliant' job wins praise at dealership

A TOP manager with Vauxhall has praised a 'brilliant job' by the team at one of its award-winning dealerships.

Mick Gudgion, one of Vauxhall's Process Engineers at the Ellesmere Port factory, has bought a total of four cars from Arthurs of Oswestry in recent years.

He not only purchases cars from the award-winning Vauxhall dealership, but has them serviced by Arthurs as well.

He has contacted Arthurs Managing Director Nigel Williams following his latest dealings with the Lower Brook Street, Oswestry-based dealership.

In particular, he has referred to sales controller Ben Phillips and sales executive Grant Dodsworth.

Said Mr Gudgion: "A brilliant job by Grant and the team. They continue to do you and the company proud and deliver the exceptional experiences time and time again. Please thank the whole team for their continued efforts."

As a result, Mr Williams has passed on the congratulations to Grant and Ben. In a message, he says: "Thank you and well done to you both."

"In a challenging economic environment we can distinguish ourselves from other Vauxhall dealers by going that extra mile which you have proved. Well done."

New welcome at hospital as £2.7m work is unveiled

by Graham Breeze

NEW technology and old fashioned friendliness have combined to create a warm new welcome at Oswestry's orthopaedic hospital.

Visitors using the £2.7 million entrance for the first time on Monday were greeted by volunteer ambassadors, bar code scanners to help check them in and even a holographic meeter and greeter.

This is a life-sized machine which welcomes people to the hospital and tells them what to do next.

Bosses say this is the first time the high-tech equipment has been used in the NHS. The Robert Jones and Agnes Hunt Orthopaedic Hospital NHS Foundation Trust has spent 10 months on the new entrance, which is part of a £4.5m investment.

This has involved removing the nurses' home, relocating services, and building a patient and visitor car park, as well as the new entrance and conference facilities.

On the new car park, all four new pay and display machines are solar powered and two electric vehicle charging points have been installed.

Chief Executive, Wendy Farrington Chadd, said: "As an NHS foundation trust, we have re-invested our surpluses and some £600,000 of charitable donations into the fantastic new development. I am very pleased that the new facilities have provided employment for local firms and local people."

Within the new entrance, patients can self check-in at kiosks using the bar coded letters that they are sent.

Volunteers are on hand to guide patients and the main reception desk, and in the reception area there is a new cafe staffed by members of the League of Friends, which has been supported by patient donations.

There is also a League of Friends shop, Post Office and an Ableworld mobility equipment supplier. The Denbigh's restaurant has also been extended.

Designer's focus is back home

Craig Marston has set-up Ke-Design.

A DESIGNER has returned to his home town to launch his own business after working on award winning projects across the UK as well as in Hong Kong.

Craig Marston has set-up Ke-Design, an architectural design services company, in Oswestry, where he grew up until moving to London followed by Hong Kong in 2002.

The 37-year-old, based at The Studio, Salop Road, said it was a privilege to bring his experience back to Oswestry which offered so many architectural and design opportunities.

He hopes he will be able to offer job opportunities in the future and is now extending his portfolio with clients in Oswestry and across the surrounding area.

He is currently working with Mid-Wales based, Welsh Oak Frame, to design bespoke oak framed properties, while also using his 3D skills to help clients visualise their dream.

As well as the design and planning service, Mr Marston offers full architectural services.

Pharmacy marks its first year at surgery

AN OSWESTRY pharmacist has hailed a joint venture a huge success as staff celebrated their first anniversary.

John Gentle, the superintendent pharmacist at The Pharmacy@Caxton which opened in May last year, said patients and new customers had welcomed the service.

Mr Gentle, who runs the pharmacy within the Caxton Surgery on Oswald Road, said: "This was a huge venture for all involved in the partnership between the Willow Street Pharmacy and the Caxton Surgery 12 months ago but it has been overwhelmingly successful."

"Many of the patients from the surgery have embraced the new service. It gives them a much wider service than they had access to before with just a dispensary."

"But most importantly other customers have enjoyed our services too. The parking outside the door and the accessibility for all has been a great asset."

"We are thankful for the support of both customers old and new who are using our vast range of services."

Mr Gentle said he and his team of nine pharmacy technicians and drivers had met new customers from both the town centre area and also residents from the surrounding areas and had exceeded all expectations within the first 12 months.

Variety of courses at teacher's own home

WALFORD and North Shropshire College will be offering courses at a completely new location later this year – from a teacher's own home.

Helen Cooksley will be opening up her own home to allow students to make use of the surroundings at The Orchard in Babbinswood, near Whittington.

This summer she is offering several one-day Make Your Own Plum Jam workshops which will make use of produce from her own orchard.

Also in the summer, she will be offering Let's Paint oil painting workshops, taking place at Whittington Castle, Ellesmere Wharf and again students will have the opportunity to spend a day enjoying the colours of the plum, apple, pear, sloe and hawthorn trees in the orchard at her home.

College spokeswoman Mary Dominica said: "This really does promise to be a very different workshop looking at important areas not usually considered in a jam making course."

"As well as using home grown organic fruit, students will actually be shown how to select the best fruit to use for their jam and how best to pick that fruit."

DOWN YOUR STREET

with Ben Bentley

IT is under sad circumstances that I meet Bill and Heulwen Owen, of Bryn Glas, Welshpool.

"Bill likes to go for walks but we lost our dog recently so he has to go for a walk on his own," says Heulwen.

It's been only a matter of weeks since their golden retriever, Beth, passed away. Anyone who has a dog and lost one will know the feeling. I can almost see it in Bill's face.

"I miss all the dog hairs about the place," he says.

On the bright side, when they are ready they say they might consider getting a new dog, although Heulwen points out that a mature one might suit them – pups can be a bit of a handful.

Heulwen adds: "We might get a rescue dog rather than a young one. You have to be responsible."

Admiring the view over the hills to the rear, it turns out that the couple have been keen walkers for many years. In fact, walking led to romance.

"We met in the Ramblers, the Welshpool Ramblers," Heulwen explains.

Bill adds later: "We have not been for a while because Heulwen has got to go into hospital, and I am a bit worried about leaving her."

"They once thought about moving, but 'we couldn't take the view with us'. Couldn't take the neighbours either, they say. So life on Bryn Glas was just the thing."

Then Bill tells me something while Heulwen is quickly 'doing her hair' for a photograph. "Heulwen, you know, means sunshine," he says with a proud smile. Odd as it may be, at the moment he says this, Heulwen appears at the door and the sun comes out.

Nearby, I bump into resident Ann Morgan, resplendent in her housework pinny. For the record, the time is 9.07am. About to get the elbow grease out, is she?

"I've done my cleaning, then I am having my granddaughter later," she explains. It'll soon be messy again, then. On a serious note, Ann is one of a generation of grandparents whom we cannot do without. What would the nation's working parents do with their young kids during the daytime if it were not for them? "I've done it for 20 years," she continues, "and I love it." Turns out that down the years she has cared for all of her kid's kids at one time or another.

"My life is quite full," adds Ann who clearly cares about caring. "I am looking after my sister-in-law down the road because she is 85."

Until quite recently she worked in the shop on nearby Gungrog Road for 30 years, first under a Mr Crowley and later Margaret Stephens. No time for that now she is retired, of course. Too busy.

walkers; they'll know who they are because I've bumped into them several times before and, in good spirit – I think – the pair have gone all camera shy on me on both occasions.

"You can take a picture of the dogs, but not us," says one of them, slipping my lead again . . .

My meeting with resident Ann Stockton is what you might call a brief encounter. She is going down the street with a suitcase on wheels. I can have a few minutes, however, she says looking at her watch. Time starts now . . .

Turns out she's about to have an away-day, and is on her way to London to see her son. In seven hours' time, she says, she'll be at Luton Airport. Or "Lew-un Air-porr," as she puts it, dropping her 't's in what is a splendid Cockney impression of Lorraine Chase (those of you not old enough to remember, she didn't start out life on EastEnders).

By the time of publication she'll be back, but hawk-eyed Ann praises the neighbours for looking out for one another and reveals: "I wondered who you were. I saw you going up and down the road earlier on. We do notice these things."

Revamp is under way for play area

A PRE-SCHOOL in Shropshire is going through a 'dramatic change' thanks to fundraising efforts of its supporters.

West Felton Pre-school's play area is having a £1,500 facelift with a redesign and new equipment.

The plans for the revamp includes repositioning a large shed to create more open space, installing a 10 ft sandpit, a small allotment area and new outside vehicles for youngsters to play on.

There will also be a water-proof snuggle area created for children who want to have a bit of peace and quiet and go somewhere to read a book or relax.

Work has already begun on the outside refurbishments and preschool manager Donna Farr hopes it will be completed by September.

"There will be big dramatic changes," she said. "We have been fundraising for a long time. It has been a massive project."

"The current playground has been here for about six or seven years and was getting tired and worn. It needed a fresh update."

"The children are really enjoying watching the builders coming in."

The money has been raised by the West Felton Preschool fundraising committee.

Murder mansion's 16-acre estate is put on the market

Osbaston House before it was gutted by fire.

Firefighters tackle the blaze at Osbaston House.

The site of Osbaston House - now on the market.

by Graham Breeze

THE Oswestry estate where failed businessman Christopher Foster murdered his wife and daughter and killed himself has been put up for sale.

It could mean a new home being built on the 16-acre Osbaston House site.

Property consultants GVA, acting as the receivers for the land, near Oswestry, have instructed agents to start marketing following demolition of the burnt out house and outbuildings.

Joint agents, Strutt and Parker, in Shrewsbury, and Fisher German, in Stafford, will start selling the estate, with full planning permission for a replacement dwelling, in the next few weeks.

In August 2008 Christopher Foster, who was facing being declared bankrupt, shot his wife Jill and their 15-year-old daughter Kirstie. He also killed the family's pets then set fire to the house. He died in the blaze.

In 2009, Shropshire Council granted planning permission for the remains of the five bedroom house to be demolished to make way for a luxury home in the grounds. The ruins were pulled down last year and the grounds have since been completely cleared.

The 16-acre estate has now been prepared for a larger house, in a different location to the original mansion.

Greg Judd, senior director of GVA's corporate recovery team in Birmingham, said: "As law of property act receivers, we have overseen the security, demolition and landscaping of the estate over the past few years to prepare it for market."

History

"The joint agents will shortly start work to bring it to the notice of prospective purchasers."

"With full planning permission for a replacement dwelling, this estate - despite its tragic recent history - will be a rare opportunity to construct a large country house in a secluded location with a spectacular backdrop of the Welsh mountains."

Foster's brother, Mr Andrew Foster, wanted the ground to remain undeveloped and for a memorial garden to be constructed in memory of Kirstie.

The site is owned by a national bank.

Neighbours raised the alarm in the early hours of August 26, 2008, to report the fire at Osbaston House.

It took 12 fire crews to contain the flames.

When emergency services arrived they found a horse box had been left blocking the gate with its tyres shot out.

Gala dinner for Charlotte's fund

A FOUNDATION set up in memory of a schoolgirl from Shropshire is set for a boost from a gala dinner.

Oswestry wealth management firm Applewood is hosting the occasion at the Lion Quays Resort at Gledrid, tomorrow.

Cash raised will go to a foundation set up in memory of Applewood managing director Karl Hartley's daughter Charlotte after Charlotte's death in July 2009.

The 16-year-old, from Bronygarth near Oswestry, was misdiagnosed as having swine flu and died from complications caused by tonsillitis.

Groups urged to join in procession

GROUPS in Oswestry wishing to take part in the town's main jubilee event are being encouraged to make their interest known to organisers.

Oswestry Borderland Rotary Club, in conjunction with the town council, is planning a parade on June 2 with the theme of '60 years of memories'.

It will start at 11am in Victoria Road. Those interested in taking part can call Jonathan Jones on 07919 403355.

Students arrive in style for leavers' glitzy prom

Students arrived in style in a double decker bus.

Jessica Evans and Harry Rowley.

Catherine Lepone and Cristina Woolley.

Lewie Evans and Victoria Edwards.

Students move through to be seated for dinner.

Year 11 girls including the Head Girl Lucy Bates in the emerald green dress.

VEHICLES ranging from a London double decker bus to a stretch Hummer ensured students at an Oswestry secondary school arrived in style for their leavers' prom.

The cavalcade of the unusual vehicles, hired by Year 11 students at Oswestry's The Marches School for their prom at the Lion Quays Resort at Gledrid, turned more than a few heads as it arrived for the glamorous occasion.

by Iain St John

As well as a double decker bus and a Hummer, there was also a tractor, an Aston Martin and even military trucks employed to ensure the students' arrival at the glitzy affair was memorable for everyone who attended.

Parents, relatives, past students and friends all turned up in their hundreds to greet students as they arrived at the prom on Friday.

More than 200 students attended the event and enjoyed the red carpet style welcome, before sitting down to a three-course meal, followed by dancing to the school's resident DJ Dan Deakin.

The annual event has become a firm favourite on the school calendar, with a large number of both students and staff attending each year.

Event organiser Claire Cass said the school leavers' prom was a memorable night for everyone from the Marches.

She said: "The evening went incredibly well and was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The students put so much effort into planning their outfits and transport; it really was sensational to see. They have been a fantastic year group and we now wish them all the best with their exams."

Head boy Jack Martin said the proms was a great way for the students to bring an end to their time at The Marches. He said: "We all had a fantastic time and it was a great excuse to get dressed up and celebrate our time together at The Marches."

Singers invited to join mass choir days

SINGERS IN Oswestry are invited to take part in a mass choir for the town's Olympic celebrations.

A new choir is being formed especially for the community games in July and a musical piece, called Oswestry, has been specially composed.

The piece has been written for a full four-part choir and will be accompanied by Porthywaen Silver Band.

Organisers now need experienced singers to take part.

Rehearsals will take place at Porthywaen Band Hall and will be directed by Janet Brown, a music teacher and director of the choir at Morton church, and Julian Catley, director of music at Oswestry School and composer of the anthem.

Sopranos, altos, tenors and basses are needed.

Under-18s need to be accompanied by an adult to the event, which will take place on July 6 at 6.30pm at the town's leisure centre and on July 15 at 4.30pm at the same venue.

The choir will first meet on Saturday from 10am-11am.

Backing for historic site plans

PLANNING approval has been given to change Llanfyllin's historic workhouse into a community centre and to use part of the site for homes.

The move will bring an economic boost to the area and allow the listed Grade II building, which featured on the BBC TV Restoration series in 2004, to widen its activities, supporters said today.

The permission was given by Powys County Council to change the workhouse, or Y Dolydd as it is known, from an outdoor activity centre to a community centre enterprise for arts, education, environment and heritage including homes.

Llanfyllin's county councillor Peter Lewis said the application's success was great news for the area.

He said: "I think it is fantastic news especially because it will help safeguard the future of the building."

"They can now diversify and put on different activities, attracting more people and projects."

"The residential accommodation is important because it will provide income and it means they can put on larger projects."

The workhouse has been owned since 2004 by the Llanfyllin Dolydd Building Preservation Trust and the charity has been working to restore, renovate and safeguard the building.

Papers lodged in support of the planning application said the planning approval was important for the long term future of the building.

Chance for villagers to back broadband

by Graham Breeze

A PUBLIC meeting will be held on the Shropshire/Welsh border to try to raise support for faster wireless broadband.

The meeting will be held on May 24 at 7pm at Llanfechain Memorial Hall to stir up support in the community for a new infrastructure to be installed in the village to increase internet speeds.

Organiser Anne Whitehouse said a Montgomeryshire company, called eXwavia, brought broadband speeds of more than four Mbps wirelessly to more than 80 homes and businesses in Cefn Coch and Adfa at the beginning of this year.

Competition bid to find top tastes of region

A COMPETITION to find the best places to experience Welsh food and drink has been launched as part of the 2012 Wales the True Taste Food & Drink Awards.

People across Mid Wales are being encouraged to go online at www.walesthetruetaste.co.uk and vote for their favourite restaurant, cafe or tearoom, farm shop or deli, butcher and fishmonger.

The public vote will run until May 28, with everyone who enters automatically going into a draw to win a Michelin-starred dining experience or a hamper of True Taste Award-winning goodies.

Peter Jackson, chairman of the Welsh Culinary Association who also oversees the judging for the Wales the True Taste Awards, said he was excited about the new format of a People's Choice Awards, where customers will have their say on who makes the shortlist.

Alun Davies, Welsh Government deputy minister for food, added: "This is your chance to have your say on something that really matters to the daily lives of each and every one of us."

"Welsh outlets deserve their efforts to be recognised, and I eagerly await the competition results."

Visit www.walesthetruetaste.co.uk for details.

company, called eXwavia, brought broadband speeds of more than four Mbps wirelessly to more than 80 homes and businesses in Cefn Coch and Adfa at the beginning of this year.

She said it was now offering to do the same for Llanfechain and its surrounding community.

She said: "The possibility has arisen because eXwavia has brought in a new microwave link from the high speed FibreSpeed fibreoptic network in North Wales."

"It is received by a mast on Long Mountain near Welshpool, which has direct line of sight to parts of Llanfechain parish."

Grant

"eXwavia will work with the community to bring in a link from Long Mountain and transmit fast broadband wirelessly down to the village and surrounding areas without the need for cables or fibreoptics."

"Anyone whose broadband speed is less than 2Mbps is eligible for a grant through the Welsh Government's Broadband Support Scheme, which would mean installations for homes and business would be free."

She said if there was enough support there could be broadband speeds of four to 60Mbps available for homes and businesses.

She said anyone who was interested in the scheme but was unable to attend the meeting was asked to get in touch with David Eyres or herself on (01691) 648838 or directly with Mel at eXwavia on 0844 884 8588 or log on to www.exwavia.co.uk

Expert tips on growing food in smallest spaces

THE secrets of growing fruit and vegetables in small spaces will be explored at this month's meeting of the North Shropshire and Borders Smallholders Group.

Vince Morris, the edible garden coach, will be talking about how anyone can grow food even in a small space.

The practical talk will be held at Llanfyllin and Porthwaen Hall on May 23 at 7.30pm and everyone is very welcome. The cost is £3 for visitors, including refreshments.

For more information call (01691) 656516 or go to the group's website at www.northshrop-smallholder.co.uk

Donation helps youngsters get crafty at youth club

YOUNGSTERS in Oswestry can get crafty after a £1,000 cash boost from a fund set up in memory of one of the town's best known writers and teachers.

The funding from the Mary Hignett Bequest Fund will go towards Oswestry Youth Cafe's art and craft skills project.

The donation was presented by members of the Rotary Club of Oswestry.

Mary Hignett left half of her substantial estate to the club and gave it discretion regarding how the money was to be distributed, with the only guidance being that it should be used mainly for local small projects in the fields of sport and the arts.

Liz Jones, youth cafe coordinator and project leader, said: "This is a very exciting venture for the cafe. It will see a weekly after-school evening session being established to enable young people to learn new art and craft skills and extend their existing interests and abilities."

"Fundamental to getting the project off the ground is acquiring the equipment and materials needed for the course – the component being funded by the Mary Hignett Bequest."

Making the presentation, rotary president Mike Jones, said: "This is a project that ticks all the right boxes – it's local, it's arts-based, the money will be used to purchase assets that can be used for many years and, very importantly, it will help the young people of our town."

Calls to join village event

VILLAGERS in Llandrinio are being encouraged to get involved in a party in the park to celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee.

The celebrations will be held in Llandrinio on June 4 from noon. It will begin with the opening of a playground.

Jean Lewis said: "There will be a unique version of Llandrinio's Got Talent."

She added in 2002 the village celebrated the Queen's jubilee with guest appearances of a number of former carnival queens since 1952. "If you have ever been carnival queen call Graham Brown on (01691) 830247."

Busy time for town ramblers' group

THE Oswestry branch of the Ramblers' Association has organised a programme of walks around Oswestry.

Last week 25 walkers set off from the Sun Trevor and walked to the top of Dinas Bran before returning along the Offa's Dyke Path.

Six members of the Oswestry Ramblers had a nine-mile walk on the moors from Llanarmon DC over to Dolydd Ceiriog, while 17 people left Llanrhaeadr to walk along tracks and lanes to Llanarmon Mynydd Mawr.

Last weekend saw the opening of the northern section of The Shropshire Way and the launch of Oswestry's newly-acquired Walkers are Welcome status.

This title is given to towns and communities which help to promote walking to visitors and locals.

For information on the Oswestry Group of the Ramblers' Association go online to the Group Walks Finder on the RA home page.

Sporty invite

YOUNGSTERS are invited to get into the Olympic spirit at a sporting extravaganza organised by Packwood Haugh School in Ruyton-XI-Towns on May 27.

Survey will ask villagers for their views of the future

A MAJOR survey is to be held asking villagers near Oswestry how they want to see their communities develop in the future.

Kinnerley parish is one of only five Shropshire parishes involved in the new national Neighbourhood Planning programme.

The programme will see the distribution of questionnaires to all household and businesses in the area later this month.

Kinnerley parish includes the villages of Kinnerley, Maesbrook, Dovaston, Knockin Heath, Edgerley and Pentre.

Centre plan for former chapel

A NEW arts and community centre will be established in Oswestry if planners give the go-ahead to changes to a former chapel in the town.

The proposal would see Hermon Chapel on Chapel Street altered into a community centre and a Sunday school building at the back converted into a flat.

A report in support of the bid by applicant Duncan Kerr said the proposals would make no alterations to the external appearance of the building.

Some pews would be dismantled and stored in the roof void above the chapel and the work will be carried out in a way which "maintains the look and feel of the character of the chapel".

The report added: "The changes to the internal appearance of the chapel have been discussed and agreed with English Heritage." Shropshire Council aims to determine the plan by June 15.

A project manager has joined the team working on the plan to help with this important consultation process.

Irene Evison, from local consultancy company Resources for Change, has extensive experience of working with community groups including her previous involvement in the Market Town Initiatives Action Plans for Oswestry, Craven Arms, Wem, Market Drayton and Tewkesbury.

Important

She said: "I am pleased to be able to support the production of this important plan."

"Members of the local community have done a tremendous amount of work to research and bring together the key issues for all members of the community to give views on and to discuss."

"I am looking forward to being able to work with the steering group to finalise a questionnaire for circulation to everyone in the area and then to help with the analysis of the responses."

"This plan is really being produced by the community for the community."

The programme encourages all members of the community to get actively involved in shaping the future of the area.

This could be related to housing development, environmental issues, recreation, education and employment or anything else that is considered important by local residents and employers.

Corgi creation delights hauliers

The model alongside the Scania it was based on.

A HAULAGE firm has been given a new lorry in time for the Queen's Jubilee celebrations – but it would only be suitable for transporting very small loads.

For model car-maker Corgi has created a limited edition version of an eye-catching truck owned by Ridgeway Rentals, based in St Martins.

Staff say they are delighted their Scania T Cab. Only 1,200 will be made ready for sale later this summer, although with a price tag of £49 it's a toy for the serious collector.

Stuart Jones, managing director of Ridgeway Rentals, said: "Corgi saw the truck and asked us if they could make it into a model and release it for the jubilee celebrations."

Remand in bomb hoax calls case

A MAN from Oswestry has appeared in a video link before a court charged with making bomb hoax telephone calls.

Paul William Jones, 38, of Maple Avenue, faces 10 charges of making calls to premises across Britain in attempt to make the receiver believe there was a bomb. He is also charged with the possession of a bladed article, a 10-inch carving knife.

All the offences are said to have taken place on March 19. Magistrates adjourned the case until May 23 and Jones was remanded in custody.

Group explores the countryside

RESIDENTS in Powys have the opportunity to explore the county's stunning countryside thanks to the return of a popular guided walk programme.

Powys County Council's Trail Tempters programme is back with eleven walks, ranging from one mile to over seven miles.

There are several walks that residents of all ages should enjoy and all are organised by the Countryside Services Team.

Food waste plea

POWYS residents are being encouraged to use their food waste caddies in order to cut down on the amount of recyclable waste sent to landfill.

Music promoter thrilled by gigs' boost to economy

THE live music scene in Oswestry is helping local tourism and the town's night time economy, the organisers of three major gigs in the town has said.

Tom Norton, who runs events management company Worlds Biggest Events, said he had been left overwhelmed with the success of his first major events.

Mr Norton said the gigs, which included international rock and roll act Vintage Trouble, Rich Robinson from the Black Crowes and The Martin Harley Band, all held at The Ironworks, were sell-outs with hundreds of tickets sold.

Butterfly seen after absence

ONE of the UK's most endangered butterflies has returned to the Shropshire side of Llanymynech Nature Reserve after an absence of 10 years.

A single specimen of the pearl-bordered fritillary was seen by Dr Simon Spencer and David Dennis, chairman of Butterfly Conservation, last week.

The butterflies were reintroduced on the Montgomeryshire side of Llanymynech Nature Reserve in 2010 and 2011 and it was hoped that they would find their way back on to the Shropshire side too.

"We are absolutely thrilled," said Rhona Goddard, reserves officer for Shropshire Wildlife Trust.

"Over the last 18 months a joint project between Shropshire and Montgomeryshire Wildlife Trusts has been carried out to improve the habitat for butterflies."

Mr Norton added: "Many people travelled from Wolverhampton, and as far as London and Devon, which has a knock-on impact on local tourism as they stayed in local B&Bs and ate in local restaurants and many of them made a weekend of it and shopped in the town where they loved the individuality of such a market town."

He said organisers were forced to turn many people away at the door on all three nights due to the last minute demand for tickets.

Mr Norton said: "We had advertised all of the acts well in advance but many people left it to the last minute to try and buy tickets and then we had a sudden rush in the hours leading up to them and all of them became a sell-out."

"People who came to the first realised we are serious about organising good quality acts at good venues and immediately booked for our next gig - this really could be just the start for music fans in Oswestry."

Mr Norton added: "Many people travelled from Wolverhampton, and as far as London and Devon, which has a knock-on impact on local tourism as they stayed in local B&Bs and ate in local restaurants and many of them made a weekend of it and shopped in the town where they loved the individuality of such a market town."

"It was wonderful at the end of the night to have people come up to you saying what a great night and asking who we had got booked for the next gig."

All aboard for railway fun

STAFF from Cambrian Railway, at Llynclys near Oswestry, were running Bank Holiday train trips. Ready for the next journey are Christa Bridges and manager Andy Vance.

Delight at pupils' success in drama

PUPILS and staff at Oswestry School's prep department are celebrating after two thirds of its drama students gained the highest honours in their exams.

A total of 57 pupils from Bellan House entered the latest London Academy of Music and Dramatic Arts exams with 36 gaining a distinction.

"These are outstanding results and we are delighted that our exceptional performing arts programme and our enthusiastic pupils are getting the recognition they deserve," said headmaster Douglas Robb.

"As well as the dance and theatre arts in the timetable, we also have an extensive programme of after-school clubs including tap, modern dance, ballet, drama and street dance."

"Performing arts at Bellan House goes from strength to strength and a great deal of credit for this goes to teacher Claire Thompson whose energy and enthusiasm is passed on to our pupils."

Miss Thompson said that she was thrilled with the results. She said: "The results reflect all the effort that the children have been putting in - they really did work hard. We are especially pleased because the LAMDA exams help to nurture the children's confidence."

How Heather got hooked on the allure of libraries

ONE visit to the library and Heather Rodenhurst was hooked. She was only a youngster when she visited Oswestry Library for the first time but almost instantly she knew this was where her future career lay.

Today the 44 year-old lives in Whittington with her husband and twin daughters. "I think I always wanted to be a librarian," she said. "When I was a small child I was taken to Oswestry library and that experience was something that made a big impact on me."

"The power and magic of books settled on me right away and I knew being a librarian was I wanted." So after education at Kinnerley Primary School and what is now The Marches, Heather studied English literature and librarianship at Aberystwyth.

She said: "I found it enjoyable and it was fantastic training. I have not always been in libraries though. When I first qualified I worked in the business library of a research firm in Shawbury."

"But I was keen to get into public libraries because that was where my heart lay."

"When you work in public libraries no two days are the same. It is a really interesting job and I feel so lucky to be doing it."

In her role she also gets to visit schools and help inspire youngsters.

The library in Oswestry also holds storytelling for older people called Unwind Your Mind.

"I am a words person," Heather said. "They are what inspire me and their power is something that has me hooked."

Her job also involves her promoting literature and reading in the area and she has worked closely with the town's independent bookshop, Booka Bookshop, and Oswestry Festival of the Word.

She said being a librarian was not about putting your fingers to your lips to announce a large 'shh!' to people making a noise.

In fact Heather is preparing to make a bit of a racket herself with some exciting plans up her sleeve for the Olympic flame celebrations.

WOMEN OF SUBSTANCE

with Chrissy Symmons

poetry to them. "It's always a good thing to take library services out of the library and into the streets," she said.

"Oswestry is a great place to be at the moment. There are so many people with lots of good ideas and people are making them happen."

She said she has a great passion for reading and believes she has been able to pass this on to her children, who are studying for their GCSEs.

"They love reading and literature," she said. "It has been an absolute joy to be able to read with them."

So does she have any advice to other budding librarians?

"I think you just need to be somebody who enjoys talking to people and if you love to read that is important too," she said.

"Libraries are about books but also about so many other services too and we aim to provide a relevant service to everybody. Being a librarian in Oswestry is a really rewarding job."

Heather Rodenhurst, team librarian at Oswestry Library.

Evening to boost funds for charity

A CHARITY night featuring local bands will be held at Gibsons in Oswestry later this month.

Listen Up is part of Mandy Fitton's Walk Across Wales challenge next month to raise money for Cancer Research UK and Chrons and Colitis UK.

The evening will be held at Gibsons in Oswestry on May 25 and Miss Fitton will take on her walk on June 25.

Miss Fitton, who lives in Oswestry, said: "We want to raise as much money as we can for these two vital charities."

"I am doing a 22-mile 'warm up' walk on Saturday as training for my 42 miles across Wales walk at the end of June."

"The walk will be tough going for me so everyone's support and the thought of the cause will keep me going."

She said bands taking part in the evening include Like Minded, a group that will play everything from the 1960s to present day.

Other bands on the bill include The Petty Criminal and Sound Excuse.

Tickets are £5 and are available from Milano's, Gibsons and the Bell Inn in Oswestry.

Over 50s get help to combat the crooks

PEOPLE aged 50 and over in the Welshpool area can protect themselves from dodgy doorstep traders and postal scams with a new scheme.

Age Cymru and Western Power Distribution have teamed up to provide handy fact-packed door hangers which give valuable advice and guidance to help older people keep crooks at bay.

Louise Hughes, Age Cymru's elder abuse programme manager, said: "Older people need to be able to feel safe and secure in their homes and be confident that they can spot scams and cons. This is why Age Cymru and WPD have teamed up to produce these handy door hangers.

"We've printed eight tips on them to remind older people about what to do if an unexpected caller knocks their door, or they get a scam letter in the post."

The hangers are available from Age Cymru and its partners, Age Cymru shops and Wilkinson stores.

Phil Davies, WPD's network services manager for Wales, said: "We are delighted to be working with Age Cymru to try and combat these types of scams which can have a devastating affect on older people.

"We hope the door hanger scheme will empower and protect people and help them to feel safe and secure in their own homes."

Settle quietly on a lakeside and enjoy a fishy encounter*ON THE
Ben Waddams

IN my columns I try to tell of rare, hard-to-see creatures, unusual encounters or, if I'm really struggling, an interesting fact about a rare creature I once had the fortune to encounter.

May is typically the month of butterflies and flowers, but this week, far from there being a single animal on which to base my writings, or a solitary species to dissect and muse over, it is appropriate to mention an entire class of animals unto which we know comparatively little about and rarely ever see.

There are over 30 species of freshwater fish in the UK and Shropshire is home to most of them, however very few of us ever see them. When I go fishing, it is not for the thrill of the fight, the competition element of a match or even, I'm happy to admit, the skill and cunning one must employ to catch such denizens of the deep, but instead it is simply my overwhelming intrigue in seeing a creature that spends its life away from the prying eyes of us land animals.

One of the most exciting forms of angling for me, is stalking large carp and chub. These fish are surface feeders and there is nothing more thrilling than creeping up on a large patch of lilies on a warm summer's day and crouching to survey the scene. Damsels and dragons flit by.

A mother mallard leads her brood of ducklings away, perhaps sensing the imminent fracas brewing beneath the water's surface. Birdsong and the rustling reeds blend into a swirl of background noise; all your attention is focused on the lily pads before you. Then, ever so slowly and almost imperceptibly, there's a soft nudging of the central leaves.

You reach down and grab a handful of chopped, white loaf and flick it in. Stillness returns for a moment before you notice a slight shudder under one of the pads towards the edge of the cluster and as the ripples move out, a corner of the lily flops up and over itself and in the space below a grey-blue nose appears, tentatively followed by a pair of rubbery yellow lips and two long barbels. A carp is feeding.

Quite often I find myself sitting motionless, unwilling to cast my line into the water, immersed in the grace and meticulous nature of a large common carp feeding in my midst. However now, in May, the carp have anything but feeding on their mind. It is of course the closed-season as far as fishing goes, but even if it were not, you'd struggle to catch anything. Fish all around the country (including the goldfish in my pond incidentally) are busy themselves with the art of spawning and because many of them do so in shallow water and are consumed with their activities to the exclusion of everything else, these weeks offer a rare glimpse into their lives, never seen at any other time of the year.

Approaching reed beds and rafts of lilies, keep your eyes peeled for the tell-tale splashes and large tail fins of common, mirror and leather carp. Peer into the shallows of a lake side near to cover and you may be lucky enough to see the silver and gold flanks and red fins of roach and rudd as they fizz, churn dive and chase. May, it turns out, is not just the month of butterflies and flowers.

Gangland tales from top author
Courtney

EX-LONDON gangster turned top-selling author Dave Courtney will tell an Oswestry audience his tales of the underworld at Gibson's nightclub.

The former criminal will tell of his friendships with crime bosses including the Krays, Roy Shaw and Lenny McLean.

In his time, the former criminal has been shot, stabbed and had his nose bitten off. He has been involved in debt collecting, minding clubs, assault, contraband and murder.

Courtney's four best-sellers include Stop The Ride I Want to Get Off and Dodgy Dave's Little Black Book.

He has also produced, directed and starred in his own film, Hell To Pay, which received a standing ovation at the Cannes Film Festival.

The Gibson's event has been organised by Gledrid-based businessman and promoter Mike Williams.

Mr Williams, who has brought star names such as Mike Tyson, Joe Calzaghe and Mad Frankie Fraser to Oswestry, said the evening on June 8 was shaping up to be a great boys' night out.

He said: "If easily offended please do not attend."

Tickets cost £20 and are available from Ringside Gym or The Vaults in Oswestry.

Group has designs on care home artwork

A CREATIVE group in Shropshire is to make a specially-designed art piece for a care home being built in Oswestry.

The Project Group in Oswestry wants to create a large, triangular textile piece and four small pieces for Fairholme's new care home, which is being built in Shrewsbury Road.

The artwork, to be made from hand-dyed string, will be wall-mounted at the building's front entrance.

A series of workshops will be held at the current care home to develop a theme for the artwork. It will also give residents, family and staff members the chance to take part in some practical work.

Ideas, drawings, photographs and other material arising from the workshops will be interpreted and developed by Project Group members in their studio in Cross Street, Oswestry.

David Coull, chief executive of Coverage Care, said: "I am delighted that the project group will be able to bring some of its expertise into developing a truly memorable piece of artwork to the new home. We hope that this will be just the beginning of community involvement with New Fairholme."

Previous string commissions have been created for West Felton Village Hall and the Oswestry's Memorial Hall.

Readers rise to challenge and name 70s footballers

It's Oswestry Town in the early 1970s, although the yellow kit is unfamiliar.

Result! Readers have risen to the challenge and positively identified pictures we carried of a mystery team in a yellow kit as being of Oswestry Town in the 1970s era.

But while our detectives are sure on that point, there is a divergence of views on where the game was being played, and a few understandable discrepancies on the names and spellings of the players.

The yellow kit is also a slight puzzle, although one correspondent can recall Oswestry Town playing in yellow in a floodlit match. Dave Stanworth e-mailed to say: "The manager pictured is Oswestry Town's Freddie Morris. Sorry, I can't name any of the players. Also, I was ballboy when the town played Doncaster Rovers in the first round of the FA Cup of which the score was either 3-1 or 3-2 to Doncaster."

Dave said he was pretty sure the match was being played at home, at Victoria Road, Oswestry.

Nigel Dalton chipped in with: "The picture is Oswestry Town circa 1971-72. I can remember them beating Rhyl 5-0 in around

"Front row (l-r) George ? (physio), Graham Bird, Geoff Lloyd, Roger Jones, Len Warby, Ian Hughes. The substitute may be Frank Peters, who I think was captain, so I am not sure."

Also stepping up and signing himself True Blue! was Steve Gray, who said: "I'm sure you must have been flooded with letters regarding your pictures of the 'team in yellow' which was of course OUR team

Oswestry Town FC and the familiar face of manager Freddie Morris in the back row.

"Don't know about anyone else but I would name the back row as: John Evans, Steve Mackreth, Bob Davies, Kelly ?, Mick Lambert, Mike Porter.

"Front: George Phillips, Bird or Nantcurvis?, don't know, Roger Jones, Len Warby, Ian Hughes, Frank Peters? Maybe a few wrong there perhaps!

"I'm sure the match was at the Bucks Head v Telford United, and pretty sure I was probably there too."

Armed with the information above, we were able to dig out an August 1971 team line-up of Oswestry Town for comparison.

Primary school bid to retain buildings

A PRIMARY school near Oswestry has put in a request to keep its demountable buildings for the next 10 years despite plans for it to be part of an all-through school.

Ifton Heath Primary School, in St Martins, has sent in a planning application to Shropshire Council to 'allow retention of a five-bay demountable for a further period of 10 years'.

The council has plans to close Ifton Heath Primary School and send its pupils to a new all-through school at the village's Rhyn Park Secondary School.

Unitary authority bosses say this would safeguard the future of Rhyn Park School and help the authority meet tough budget constraints.

A spokesman for the school said the plans for the demountable buildings had to be submitted even though they would only be there for a few years.

A spokesman from Shropshire Council said: "The existing planning application is about to expire.

"It is standard procedure as both need to be renewed."

He said it was standard procedure to ask for it to be renewed for 10 years.

THE ARTS

Gallery stages display to delight cartoon lovers

by Graham Breeze

MORE THAN 90 cartoons are on display at an Oswestry gallery.

The Shrewsbury Cartoon Exhibition has now arrived at Qube Gallery, in Oswald Road, and will be on display until June 9.

There are more than 90 cartoons on display and this year's exhibition theme is Flying. The display pieces also include originals and quality signed prints.

Lindy Parkinson, arts co-ordinator at Qube, said: "This is a great opportunity to see a range of interpretation, styles and humour and to buy high quality professional cartoon art at affordable prices."

"The Cartoon Exhibition has proved to be a very popular exhibition here at Qube in the past and we look forward to many visitors popping in and enjoying the artwork."

As part of the exhibition there was a cartoon workshop on Saturday.

The workshop was run by professional artist and cartoonist Will Dawbarn, better known as Wilbur.

He took people through the process of cartooning, beginning with drawing simple cartoon figures, right through to completing their own hilarious cartoons.

"Whether young or old, a complete beginner or an artistic genius Wilbur displayed how just about anyone and everyone could enjoy cartooning," said a spokesman.

There will be a paper plane competition on May 26.

For more information contact Qube or visit the website www.qube-oca.org.uk

Italy theme at gallery

THE Willow Gallery, transformed from a disused car showroom in Oswestry, is currently opening a window into Italy through its Italian Connection Exhibition.

The exhibition runs at the gallery until May 20.

WIN tickets to Cosford Air Show

THE 2012 Air Show on Sunday, June 17 brings a variety of military and civilian aircraft together to produce a spectacular five and a half hour display. Featuring the wonders of the RAF Red Arrows and Battle of Britain Memorial Flight, a role demonstration from the RAF's Tornado including pyrotechnics, the vintage pair Meteor and Vampire and the Royal Naval Historic Flight to name a few. This year's show is set to be one of the most exciting yet, and we have 12 pairs of tickets to give away in tonight's competition.

Experience first hand the fantastic training the Royal Air Force provides with demonstrations from the specialisations of Aeronautical Engineering, Information and Communication Technology, Physical Training and Tri-service Photography, all part of the Defence College and schools at RAF Cosford.

For those a little too young to join up, the RAF Air Cadets will be there to exhibit the many different opportunities available for teenagers with interactive displays, climbing walls and further information on how you and your children can get involved.

On the ground there is plenty to keep the whole family entertained, from fairground rides and sophisticated simulator rides to musical displays from the RAF Regiment Band and the Cosford Voluntary Band. Music festival will support cancer charity

with Chrissy Symmons

A STAR-studded music festival has chosen a teenage cancer charity to support at this year's event.

Osfest will be taking place at the Showground in Park Hall, near Oswestry, with a line-up including rock bands Razorlight and Hard-Fi.

It is expected to attract thousands of revellers when it runs from June 1-4.

Festival organisers have selected Teenage Cancer Trust which will be spending the whole weekend at the festival.

The charity's mission is to ensure every young person with cancer and their family receive the best possible care and professional support throughout their cancer journey.

It has attended a number of music events across the country and asked to come along to Shropshire's event.

This is the second year the event has teamed up with a charity to help raise both cash and awareness for a good cause.

Ruth Morris, Gavin Marwick and Cameron Robson plunder Europe for strange and interesting tunes, weaving them into a mesmerizing and original sound for Bellevue Rendezvous and they are coming to Selattyn.

They have two excellent CDs to their credit and have played at major festivals such as internationally renowned Celtic Connections.

Now lovers of fine acoustic music can see them in the intimate setting of the Cross Keys at Selattyn near Oswestry - CAMRA's Shropshire real ale pub of the year.

Organisers Borderline Music (Eirene Craney and John Neilson) have caught them on a rare foray south on their way to the Gower Festival in South Wales.

A masterstroke for golfing trip to France

For four golfers on a trip to Northern France there could have been no better mode of transport than Volkswagen's Caravelle.

This seven-seater beauty was made for the job and the special edition model finished in candy white stood out in any company.

Only 225 UK examples of the Caravelle Edition 25 are available in the UK and they are instantly recognisable thanks to a revised front bumper, xenon headlights with LED running lights and black highlights running the length of the vehicle.

DRIVE TIME
with Graham Breeze

Exclusive satin black 18in alloy wheels add to the vehicle's appearance.

Based on the well-equipped SE specification, the Caravelle Edition 25 adds three-zone "Climatronic" air conditioning so the driver and rear passengers can control the temperature in their own areas.

There's a voice-activated satellite navigation and Bluetooth telephone preparation, parking sensors with reversing camera, and Volkswagen's Lane Change Assist system which monitors the vehicle's blind spots.

The Caravelle can carry up to seven, with a row of seats that swivel to face the rear and create an exclusive lounge environment, while passengers can get in and out of the Caravelle easily thanks to electric sliding doors.

Two-tone

As you'd expect, the interior is well appointed with seats stylishly upholstered in two-tone leather.

Volkswagen's refined and powerful 2.0-litre Bi-Turbo common rail diesel engine produces 180PS, and is coupled to a seven-speed DSG gearbox as standard.

The standard model has front-wheel drive, or there is the option of Volkswagen's highly accomplished 4MOTION all-wheel drive system.

"Storage space is exceptional, with a variety of storage compartments in just about every available location"

The striking Volkswagen Caravelle Edition 25 is a seven-seater

The Edition 25 accelerates from a standstill to 62 mph in 11.3 seconds with a top speed of 119 mph.

On a 700-mile round trip the Caravelle returned over 30mpg and won the approval of all four passengers for comfort and ride quality.

The high driving position means you get to see a lot more than you would usually expect. Rear vision is superb thanks to wide fitting electrically operated door mirrors and the reversing camera.

Safety is high on VW's list with this model. There's BS braking, traction control, stabilisation programme, traction control and engine braking control to ensure the ride is as safe as possible.

There's also front, side and curtain airbags and an electronic engine immobilizer, remote central locking with deadlocking and an alarm system.

Storage space is exceptional, with a variety of storage compartments in just about every available location.

The Caravelle Edition 25 is available to order now from Volkswagen with prices starting at £44,995 on the road.

That's a lot of money which is why the model has only a small market target but if this is the sort of vehicle that suits your demands you will get an awful lot for your money.

The new Audi TT RS Plus. Prices range from £48,945 to £52,265 for the roadster with S tronic gearbox

Plus will deliver more power for UK market

A more powerful Audi TT RS has been confirmed for the UK market.

Called the TT RS Plus, its greater muscle is complemented by an electronically-raised top speed limit.

It has already been seen at motor shows, but until now it wasn't known whether it would come to the UK.

For a £3,085 price premium over the existing TT RS, the Plus also features larger 19in alloy wheels in a unique design, a different grille and carbon fibre-reinforced polymer (CFRP) door mirror housings.

Black, oval exhaust tailpipe trims show that the Plus is fitted as standard with a sports exhaust system.

Power has been raised by 20bhp, from 335bhp to 355bhp. Torque is up from 332 to 343lb/ft, and with the higher numbers comes a reduced 0-62mph sprint of 4.1 seconds with the optional S tronic dual-clutch gearbox. The manual version takes 4.3 seconds.

Top speed is no longer limited to 155mph, again to differentiate the Plus from the standard TT RS. The new figure, 174mph, is the equivalent of 280kph.

The range will be priced from £48,945 on the road for the manual coupe, rising to £52,265 for the roadster with the S tronic gearbox.

Flexing their 'muscles' at auction of American cars

BCA HAS a new international sales event in partnership with the DARCARS Automotive Group of the USA with the launch of a monthly sale of American classic "muscle" cars at BCA Nottingham.

The DARCARS group is scouring the US to secure the most iconic and desirable examples of Americana "muscle" cars from the Fifties, Sixties and Seventies which BCA will sell by live online auction to a worldwide audience of buyers.

Eight cars feature in the initial sale which takes place as part of the sports, prestige and executive auction at BCA Nottingham on Thursday, June 21, with viewing from 9am and the vehicles offered from midday.

All the cars in the programme have been fully restored and are presented to the highest standards with UK registration and 12 months MoT. All vehicles in the programme are supplied with comprehensive documentation including, where available, details of restoration work undertaken.

Camaro

Further sales of 16 additional cars are scheduled for July 19 and 24 cars for August 16 and at least 24 cars monthly at each auction in Nottingham thereafter. The initial line-up includes three Chevrolet Corvettes, two Pontiac GTOs, one Chevrolet Camaro, one Pontiac Firebird and a very rare Plymouth GTX, with all models dating from 1963 to 1970.

DARCARS group spokesman Robert Ryan said: "These sales will offer a rare opportunity for collectors and enthusiasts to purchase from a selection of beautifully restored classic American muscle cars at auction. These cars have been hand-picked as some of the best available to the marketplace and come with comprehensive history packages, a 12-month MoT and UK registration." BCA's spokesman Tim Naylor added "This is an exciting sales programme that will attract interest not just from UK buyers but much further afield. We are co-ordinating with BCA's European operations to ensure these cars have the widest possible audience of buyers via the live online sales channel."

The opening sale includes a selection of very desirable Americana. The 1963 Chevrolet Corvette C2 327/340HP Roadster in white with black interior is complete with hard-top. It has covered just 46,000 miles from new and had a full frame off restoration completed just 480 miles ago.

Dating from 1970, the Pontiac GTO Ram Air III Coupe is a rare car, being one of just 3,054 built. In original condition with matching numbers on the drivetrain, it has benefited from a full frame-on restoration, new interior and paint job completed just 1,000 miles ago.

The 1969 Plymouth GTX 440 Coupe 440ci/375hp is another rare car and, apart from the replacement engine block installed in the 1970s, is in very original condition with all other components bearing matching numbers. Finished in Platinum Silver with dark grey stripes, a black vinyl roof and black leather interior it has been comprehensively restored in recent years.

The 1967 Chevrolet Camaro RS/SS Coupe looks stunning in Bolero Red with black interior and sitting on rally wheels with red line tyres. It shows a recorded 22,000 miles and is in concours condition following a full restoration completed 1,200 miles ago.

Manual

It is supplied with a Camaro hi-performance including MacNeish Certificate of Authenticity, the original owner's manual and as a spare, the original M13 HD 3 Speed Transmission.

A true US motoring icon, the 1967 Pontiac GTO Convertible 400/335hp Automatic has just two owners from new, with the original female owner retaining the car until 1989. Finished in Signet Gold with Parchment interior and white power roof, a full restoration was completed just 100 miles ago. In very original condition, the centre console includes 'His and Hers' gear shifter.

Marque continues to drive ahead on sales

Kia's April performance couldn't quite match the record rainfall the country endured but the brand continued its remarkable 2012 performance delivering 5,120 new vehicles to customers during the month.

Although that figure was down by just over 100 units compared to the company's record April at the height of scraggle in 2010, the market share in April rose to 3.6 per cent - continuing a dramatic growth rate so far this year. Total sales so far in 2012 reached 22,331, up from 18,311 in 2011.

And importantly for Kia's enormous investment in its Slovakian production facility, European-sourced vehicles in the year so far reached a new record proportion of 48.6 per cent of all Kia's sold in the UK.

This performance is an interesting facet to Kia's growth in the UK. Since the first cee'd models rolled out of the Zilina factory for delivery to the UK in 2007, the importance of EU-sourced vehicles has steadily grown.

In that first year of 2007 European vehicles represented almost 23 per cent of Kia's sales in the UK. By the end of last year that proportion had risen to slightly over 46 per cent. Already this year European-built vehicles represent 48.6 per cent of Kia sales in the UK - and in April itself the proportion was even higher at 53.7 per cent. Michael Cole, managing director of Kia Motors (UK) Limited said: "Although the UK economy is not yet out of the woods, there are signs that growth may come back slowly, but steadily. Retail sales are holding up strongly and business sales are also showing improvement."

"For Kia, our European-built product is continuing to prove remarkably successful with existing cee'd, Venga and Sportage all playing their parts. When the all-new cee'd arrives in June we expect the performance of our European-built models to go still higher."

It clearly demonstrates that if you are building attractive, quality new cars at a fair price there are customers willing to support you," he added.

Kia delivered 5,120 new vehicles to customers during April. Pictured: The popular Sportage

The new TomTom speed camera app for iPhone, an aid to improving road safety

TomTom app for fixed and mobile speed camera alerts

TomTom has released the TomTom speed camera app for iPhone, giving drivers access to fixed and mobile speed camera alerts.

Powered by the largest European driving community with 1.6 million drivers in 15 countries, the app improves safety by keeping users informed about speed limits during their journey. Consequently, it helps users to avoid costly speeding fines and, in some countries, points on their driving licence.

The TomTom speed camera app offers access to TomTom's premium speed camera service in a standalone app. The app has a new dedicated user interface that is easy to use. It informs drivers of their speed, the speed limit, the type of camera ahead and the remaining distance to reach it. A colour-coded warning system quickly and effectively alerts users if they need to slow down.

"Our speed camera service can be of real benefit, helping people to stay focused as they know where the next camera will be," says Gerry Hinds, vice-president mobile at TomTom.

"We all know that confident driving is safer driving. And that's why we're so pleased that we can now offer this accessible service to a much larger segment of the driving community."

The app includes real-time customer reports from drivers that share newly added or removed cameras with each other. It gives drivers 95 per cent coverage of fixed camera locations and real-time updates for mobile speed cameras. In addition, the app offers average speed check support. This helps drivers stay below the limit within average speed check zones.

POWER. ECONOMY. LOW CO₂.
HOW DID WE FIT IT ALL IN?

THE FORD FOCUS, NOW AVAILABLE WITH THE NEW 1.0 ECOBOOST ENGINE.

With fuel consumption of up to 58.9mpg and CO₂ as low as 109g/km, the groundbreaking new Ford EcoBoost petrol engine also delivers remarkable power.

Now available on the FORD FOCUS

“The Focus is the most fuel efficient conventionally-powered family hatchback the world has seen”
Andrew Frankel - What Car? online

“It's a brilliant 1 litre petrol engine - a game changer for mainstream cars....The Ford engine has the same power as a 1.6 petrol and the 58 mpg economy of a supermini diesel.... 1 litres normally don't do 0-62 in 11.3 seconds have a top speed of 120mph and achieve over 55mpg”

Ken Gibson - The Sun

“Tiny it may be but this state of the art 1.0-litre has a big punch”
Chris Russon - Roadrecord.co.uk

“This lean upstart makes some bigger engines look puny”
Phil Macnamara - Car

Tennis ladies start in style Five-game fightback seals victory

OSWESTRY Tennis Club's Ladies first squad were the first team out of the blocks when they played their first fixture of the season at home against the current title holders in the Shropshire Group One of Shrewsbury One.

From the onset, it was going to be a tough battle as the standard of tennis was extremely high.

The first pair of captain Josie Macrae and Kat Holder came across a superb pairing from Shrewsbury, who proved to be too strong and although some excellent tennis was played and there were some long rallies the home side went down a convincing 1-6, 1-6.

The second pair of Judy Lloyd and Spite Curbstone, which is a new partnership for this season, put up a good fight against the Shrewsbury second pairing with some superb points being played but also went down in straight sets 2-6, 2-6.

In the reverse rubbers, Josie Macrae and Kat Holder had yet another hard task going up against the Shrewsbury second pairing and, after dropping the first set, they displayed some guts and determination.

And, although both were carrying injuries, they won the second set to take the rubber to a third set deciding tie-break and eventually ground out a win 3-6, 6-4, 1-0.

The second pair of Judy Lloyd and Spite Curbstone had an uphill struggle against the Shrewsbury first pair before eventually going down in straight sets 1-6, 0-6.

Even though the match was lost 3 rubbers to 1 it was a satisfying and encouraging start to the season in their first foray at such a high level.

The team will now be looking forward to further success and good tennis in the league.

BOTH of Oswestry Tennis Club's men's teams were in action this week, each posting a win which were achieved in very different fashion.

The first team, which this year has a new captain, Dave Liston, were away to High Erall 3 and in the first round rubbers Oswestry's first pair of Simon Pierpoint and Paul Hampson went down in straight sets 2-6, 2-6.

The second pair of Liston and Adam Pierpoint won their first set without the loss of a game before taking a much tighter second set 6-4.

In the reverse rubbers Simon Pierpoint and Hampson dropped the first set 2-6 but fought gamely in the second set before losing it on a tie-break.

Liston and Adam Pierpoint fared better against the opposing first pair, taking the first set easily 6-2 but then quickly went 1-4 down in the second set before digging in to take all the remaining games, the set 6-4 and the match.

This proved crucial in the end as with sets drawn at four each the result was decided on countback and games won with Oswestry claiming the match by virtue of winning one more game.

The second team was also away to Woodfield 6 and started their league campaign with an emphatic victory.

The ever-consistent first pairing of Gary Edwards and Keith Grice played excellently and put up resistance against a determined Woodfield first pairing to win the opening rubber 6-1, 6-4.

The second pairing of captain Jamie Chaplin and Matt Grice, who was making his debut in the team, combined well in their opening rubber against Woodfield's second pairing.

With some very good serving, ground shots and net play they easily took the rubber for the loss of only one game.

In the reverse rubbers, Edwards and Keith Grice's confidence and strength showed as they won convincingly 6-0, 6-0.

Chaplin and Matt Grice then continued from where they left off with a 6-1, 6-4 victory.

With Oswestry winning all four rubbers they secured the maximum of eight points and their performance bodes well for the rest of the season.

The club also held their first competitive mixed social tournament of the season with a good turnout supporting the organisation of Christine Whittingham.

Following the earlier qualifying rounds played in a round robin format the final was played between Gary Edwards and Carol Slater and Keith Grice and Speth Cumpston with the former pair just edging victory, 6-4.

Whittington 'disaster' costs them – but captain confident

WHITTINGTON A lost the battle between division one high-flyers as they were beaten at home by Corwen A 6-4.

The home side got off to a flying start, winning three of the first four games but Corwen did the same in the next four to level things.

The visitors took the match with an aggregate win by 13 points to leapfrog Whittington in the table.

Disappointed Whittington captain Aled Davies said: "We had a disaster. We wanted to win but they just bowled the green better than us on the night."

Davies added that he felt his side still remained on course for a top-four finish, which was their target at the start of the season, and added that his team would be confident of bouncing back to winning ways next week when they travel to Ruabon.

Julian Turner was the home side's best winner with a 21-13 success but Carl Green replied for the visitors with a 21-10 victory.

Criffins A were unable to take full advantage of that result though as they lost 7-3 away at Johnston A.

They came into the game having won their game in the previous evening 7-3 away at Overton A but could not repeat the trick two nights on the spin.

Elsewhere Church A 7-3 recorded an 'away' win over their B team in a game played on both sides' home green.

Steve Williams led the way for the 'visitors' with a 21-6 win while Mervyn Weaver replied for Church B with a 21-7 win.

Church A won on aggregate 120-137 to take the extra points, keeping them in mid-table while defeat for Church B leaves them still in the bottom two.

Church B captain Emrys Jones said: "We pushed them reasonably close but we are disappointed because we were hoping for at least a draw. It wasn't to be though."

And Llanyrnnech A went down 6-4 at home to Ruabon A, with an aggregate score of 149-135 in the visitors' favour.

Alan Taylor led the scoring for the visitors with a 21-3 win on the night.

BOWLS by Matt Viney

In division two Llanaresad A maintained their perfect away record with a 7-3 win over Overton B.

Emrys Roberts led the scoring for the visitors with a 21-10 win as they finished with an aggregate score of 153-135.

Club spokesman Hywel Jones said: "We have won three out of three away from home so far. Promotion was our aim at the start of the season and so far, so good."

Clash

Meanwhile fellow high-flyers George, who started the day at the top of the table, went down 7-3 away at Ye Olde Crofte in another clash between sides who share a green.

The visitors fell behind early on as they lost three of the first four and were unable to claw back the deficit.

Jamie Waugh took best winner for the home side with a 21-5 win while Frank Buckley replied for the visitors.

But Weston Rhyn A continued their good form to keep things tight at the top, winning 7-3 against Black Lion.

MART JONES put paid to the hat-trick hopes of Arwyn Roberts in the final of the Applewood Oswestry League's first competition of the year.

Roberts, of Ceiriog Valley, had won the singles competitions for players in division 4-5-6 of the league twice before and looked a good bet in Sunday's 2012 final at Flexys.

But Church club bowler Jones stayed calm and, after a close start, he pulled steadily ahead to beat Roberts 21-12 and claim the title.

"Mart bowled the tricky Flexys crown very well and got better as he progressed to the final," said league competition secretary Trevor Roberts.

In the semi-finals Jones defeated another Ceiriog Valley bowler in Jeff Davies while Roberts got the better of Steve Lewis (Church).

Ifton find the cure for travel sickness

IFTON have booked their place in the semi-finals of the Alan Mayhew Trophy and ended an away day jinx which stretched back more than two years and during a busy run of three games in five days.

Steve Robinson's side will play Chester Road in the semi-finals after beating Bowring over two legs on Thursday.

The win came a day before they ended their unenviable away record with a narrow 209-207 aggregate victory away to Archibald Worthington in the Shropshire Premier Bowling League.

But they were unable to complete a hat-trick of victories this week when they lost 11-3 away at Chester Road in the league on Monday night.

None-the-less, the last week has given Ifton a big boost and their relieved captain said the team were now aiming to build on it by adding a third win in four games against Wem.

Robinson said: "It has been a good week.

"We are in the semi-finals and we have got that away hoodoo off our backs, which is a relief."

"We had lost our last away game on aggregate so this win has been coming but we hadn't won in three seasons so it is good to end that run."

Nerve

"But we knew Chester Road is a tough place to go and things didn't go according to plan on Monday."

"But we have continued our good home form which we had all last season and improved on our travels so all in all it is a pleasing start to the season."

"Let's just hope we can push on and get a big win against Wem."

The team's win against Archibald Worthington came in dramatic fashion as Ifton fell 4-0 behind in the first four games before battling back to level the match 6-6 after 12 games.

Leighton Roberts and Dave 'Rocky' Jones both won to 10, with Roberts taking Most Valuable Player laurels.

But Robinson praised Rocky for his nerveless performance in the match-winning final game.

"When he was 17-9 up he knew he could only let his opponent get three more if we were going to win but he held his nerve and was fantastic in the end," he said.

Ifton will play Chester Road in the Alan Mayhew Trophy semi-finals next Wednesday.

Weston Rhyn bowled over by third win

by Matthew Viney

DIVISION three contenders Weston Rhyn C kept themselves in touch of the top two of the Oswestry Bowls League with their third win of the season at home to Llanyllin A.

The hosts triumphed 8-2 with wins for Tony Davies, John Gale, Gerry Owen, Brian Hulse, Norman Boulton and Keith Bacon.

Boulton took best winner accolades with a 21-6 victory over Keith Davies while Gwyn Gwalchmai replied for the visitors with a 21-9 win over Brian Davies.

Rhyn earned the extra points with a 151-108 aggregate victory to keep them third in the table, four points behind league leaders Johnston D.

In division four Church C and Criffins C both continue to set the early pace at the top of the table. League leaders Criffins won 8-2 against Llanaresad C while Church C put themselves just two points behind them with a 7-3 home triumph over Corwen B.

But Fox Lane are also hot on their heels following their 8-2 home win over Ellesmere B.

Mike Haycocks led the charge for the hosts with a 21-3 victory over Judy Birkett.

Elsewhere Church D lost ground on the chasing pack with a 7-3 away defeat

Season's bow ends in defeat

DUE to the wet weather this was the first game of the season for Welshpool II and they were reasonably content in posting a score of 136 all out after being put in to bat by Wellington 4th XI.

Nick Davies helped get the innings off to a good start, scoring 34 before being bowled out.

Amongst the other players contributing to the score were Dale Evans, scoring 20, and Rob Anderson, 22 not out.

For Wellington Jordan Hines took 3-26, Alex Harris 3-10 and Mike Nadal 2-15.

In reply the Wellington XI's start stuttered and when the first three wickets fell for only 11 runs Welshpool were in the ascendancy.

This changed when veteran Bruce Harris and Azaad Rafiq came to the wicket and Harris' aggressive 88 not out, supported by Rafiq's 34 not out, comfortably saw Wellington past the winning post.

Monk can't find habit of winning

WELSHPOOL III entertained Bomere Heath III at Maesydre on Sunday and after putting the visitors in to bat they were satisfied in restricting them to 148-7 in their allotted overs.

Opener Chris Scott smothered on 54, Mark Smout contributed 31 not out and Dave Bailey scored 17, all other batters failing to reach double figures.

For Welshpool, Joe Monk bowled well without reward, Keiran Evans took 4-28 and Adam Knight took 2-15.

In reply Welshpool never looked like threatening the total and wickets fell regularly.

The game ended with Welshpool being bowled out for 102, all-rounder Joe Monk scoring 17 and Sean Roberts 22.

Star of the Bomere bowling attack was Adam James who took the final wicket and returned figures of 6-13 in seven overs, helping his team win comfortably.

Whittington get started

Whittington 214 for 5, beat St Georges III, 127 all out, by 84 runs
WHITTINGTON kicked their season into life with a well-deserved victory over St Georges after winning the toss and decided to bat first.

The game was finely balanced as Whittington reached 55-3 from the opening 14 overs, with St Georges feeling they had the upper hand.

But that proved to be a false dawn with Matthew Mackenzie (49) and Jonny Mitchell (40) adding 73 runs for the fourth wicket.

Both fell within four overs but they had laid the foundations for Whittington's final push, allowing Rob Morris (50 not out) and Charles Higgin (20 not out) to free their arms and put on 64 in the final five overs.

Whittington managed to finish with a very competitive total of 214 from their 40 overs.

St Georges never really got into the game due to some tight bowling from opening pair Matthew Mackenzie (11.4-21.2) and Charles Higgin (11.14-3).

The bowling frustrated St Georges and their game plan was to survive rather than push for a win.

Whittington's change bowlers did some fine work in removing some stubborn St Georges batsmen, with Matty Williams taking 2 for 26 and Scott Hale 3 for 29.

Bobby Gill (37) did try to add impetus to the St Georges innings with some powerful shots but it was in vain as he lacked support from team-mates.

St Georges were finally dismissed for 127 with just 1.2 overs to go.

Oswestry are thwarted after opponents Penn park the bus

OSWESTRY'S cricketers had to settle for a winning draw at Penn on Saturday after the home side made no attempt whatsoever to chase their target on a real pudding of a wicket.

Mark Robinson's side were asked to bat after he lost the toss, and at 101-1 they looked set for a decent total. But Warrick Fynn (52) and Jonathan Miles (42) fell in quick succession, and the innings collapsed to 123-6.

Robinson himself then teamed up with Clint Brockman, and a stand of 82 lifted the final tally to 215-8. Brockman fell in the last over for 40, including four massive sixes, and Robinson was unbeaten on 37.

Penn lost early wickets, and soon shut up shop in one of the most boring innings imaginable. At the end of their 55 overs they had made just 103-6, with Robinson taking 2-31 off 17 overs, and one wicket each for Clint Brockman, Ian Davies, Fynn and 16-year-old Charlie Morris – his first wicket at senior level. Oswestry picked up 15 points, and Penn five.

A sparkling innings by James Neill and one of great maturity by 16-year-old Alex Clark steered Oswestry Seconds to an excellent two-wicket victory against Wombourne Seconds at Morda Road.

Neill smashed eight sixes in his 70, while opener Clarke made 50no as Oswestry chased down Wombourne's target of 180-8.

Owen Johnson (3-28) was Oswestry's most successful bowler, while evergreen Dave Vart took 2-23 off ten overs.

Outstanding

Oswestry Thirds went down to a strong Grove side in the Shropshire League Division Three at Morda Road on Sunday.

Four wickets apiece for Keith Sambrook and Mark Love set up a three-wicket success for Grove, who dismissed the home side for 117.

Tinyashe Munyoro top-scored for Oswestry with 28 on his club debut. Hayes Van Der Berg's impressive 47no saw Grove home, despite 4-48 by Steve O'Reilly.

Two outstanding all-round performances dominated the game between Oswestry Fourth's and Whittington Seconds at Oswestry Second.

Dennis Samunda, also making his Oswestry debut, made 93 and took 4-38, but he was upstaged by Whittington's Steve Blinkin-sopp, who scored 94 after taking 4-23.

Oswestry made an impressive 189-7 in their 35 overs, but Whittington reached their target at 190-6 in the last over.

The result gave Broseley 20 points in the Shropshire County Cricket League Division One.

Whittington managed to finish with a very competitive total of 214 from their 40 overs.

St Georges never really got into the game due to some tight bowling from opening pair Matthew Mackenzie (11.4-21.2) and Charles Higgin (11.14-3).

Maiden ton for opener Ian

Frankton, 244 for 7, (17pts) drew with Cound, 171 for 8 (5pts)

AN exceptional century from Ian Whitticase set up a convincing winning draw for Frankton against Cound.

Having been inserted, the Frankton batsmen set up a solid foundation to build a competitive total. Both Jason Brookes (20) and Lloyd Phillips (24) built important partnerships with opener Whitticase, who played a vast array of shots on his way to his maiden first team ton.

He eventually departed for a sublime 108, becoming one of the three victims for Cound skipper Matt Jones (3-42).

Late impetus was added by Jake Northwood with 19 not out as the hosts finished on an above-par 244-7 off the 50 overs.

Cound were reliant on a fast start to gain the upper hand but disciplined bowling from the Frankton new ball bowlers made runs difficult to come by.

Once again Rich Parry-Jones produced a great opening spell to take 3-39 off 11 overs, including opener Joe Yapp to a superb catch in the slips by Jason Brookes.

Dangerous opener Graham Trow top-scored with 35 and once the visitors were four wickets down it became obvious going for the win was not on the agenda.

Frankton skipper Jordan Parry then introduced himself to the attack and found some spin in the track to take 3-41 off nine overs as an unlikely win looked on the cards.

However, solid resistance from Rob McIntosh (23 not out) resulted in the Cound side batting out their 50 overs to end on 171-8.

Jake Northwood and Alex Owen took the other two wickets to fall in what was a great team bowling effort.

Visitors take two victories at hosts

MONTGOMERY notched up their second successive local derby victory on Saturday after edging out Newtown in dramatic fashion.

Having won his first toss of the season, captain Tim Davies backed his bowling attack by electing to put Newtown into bat first.

Opening with Neil Tuffin (2-25) and Andrew Barker (0-12), Davies's confidence was rewarded when Tuffin gobbled up the wickets of the in-form Dave Laird for two and also Newtown's No 3, Thomas Goodman for nil.

Barker's efforts the other end didn't produce wickets but his economical display added pressure to the Newtown batting line-up.

Steve Davies was the lynchpin of the Newtown batting whilst the wickets tumbled around him.

Charlie Clinton (2-22) saw an end to Ricky Davies's innings for 11, then capturing the crucial wicket of Tom Foulkes for 5.

However, it was the introduction of Robert Kinsey and Rob Yewdall that hampered the final nails in Newtown's coffin.

Kinsey grabbed 4-22 off his 14 overs and Yewdall eventually captured the wicket of Steve Davies (50) to finish on 2-26. This left Newtown all out for 127 in their 50 overs.

Switch

Montgomery got off to a reasonable start with Kinsey and Sam Davies opening against the bowling of Craig Davies and Dave Anthony.

However, Sam Davies was first to fall, with Craig Davies (1-21) trapping him LBW for only 7.

This brought Richard Blayney to the crease, who managed 13 before being bowled by Ally Laird (2-15).

Laird then captured the important wicket of Kinsey, caught for 29, and when Jonathan Williams was dismissed for only 2, Newtown sensed victory.

Going out into the aggressive environment, Monty skipper Tim Davies played an equally aggressive innings, being excellently supported at the other end by youngster Jack Williams.

Davies made a top-scoring quick fire 31 to settle the teams' nerves and dent Newtown's hopes of victory before he eventually fell, LBW off the bowling of Ricky Davies.

Jack Williams kept his head and saw his side home, finishing unbeaten on 18 to give the home side a deserved 20 points to Newtown's three.

Commenting after the game, Davies gleamed: "Yet again, this was a great team performance where everybody contributed."

"We bowled well, fielded well and got the job done against good opposition."

"I'm sure they will seek revenge later on in the season but, as long as we continue to play for each other, we'll be hard to beat."

Montgomery II came away with a satisfying win at Newtown after an expert bowling display from the visitors secured up the hosts' batting for just 40 runs.

Wickets were shared between Eddie Bennett and Mahesh Robinson with three each, Mike Williams with two and Harry Wilkinson with one, from his second expert opening bowler performance in a row.

The Montgomery batting had struggled with the core of the innings from David Thomas and David Mason, who scored 18 and 15 respectively, in a total of 85 all out.

Howard's way is trial winner

HOWARD LEWIS made the most of team-mate Ben Matthews' failure to finish by winning round two of the Stuart Barkley time trial series.

The Wrexham RC rider was the first home of the 26-strong field, crossing the line in 23 minutes 42 seconds.

This was just over a minute ahead of TriSmart's Alex Lake (24.45), and was the second win for the Wrexham club after Matthews won the first round.

The series is organised by the Oswestry Paragon club, and Matt Griffiths was their top rider this week, finishing 24.48.

It was a good week all round in the Griffiths household with both Adam (28.48) and Robbie (39.31) recording personal best times.

Rewarded

Andrew Davies rushed straight from work and was rewarded with fourth place in 24.56 putting him three seconds ahead of Medwyn Jones of Brookes Cycles.

Sixth place went to Jef Outhwaite of Black Country Tri in 25.18 and there was a tie for seventh with Oswestry's Colin Lythe and newcomer Keith Hughes of Brookes Cycles both clocking 26.13.

Fastest junior in ninth place was another Wrexham rider, Aaron Squire, who finished in 26.24. Ben Fretwell made it into the top ten on his first ride, clocking 26.43 to put him just ahead of Ned Millington 26.49.

All three Oswestry juniors recorded personal best times with James Birch clocking 30.09.

This week Oswestry Paragon hosts round two of the SCCA 2-up series, where riders are invited to team up into pairs. The usual solo event will run as normal.

Oswestry riders were involved in SCCA action over the weekend. On Saturday Neil Coles made the journey to Ludlow to ride round four of the Friction and Hydraulic Services series, finishing in 23.44.

OO Tri's Laura Gartry recorded 26.13.

Uphill task too much Route 66 to defeat

Frankton III, 70 all out, (1pt) lost to Church Aston, 71 for 3, (20pts)

FRANKTON III welcomed Church Aston to the FCG on Sunday and suffered similar batting fortunes to their 2nd XI club-mates in a seven-wicket reverse.

Batting first, they struggled to 70 all out inside 27 overs. Three of the top four all made starts with Dav Whitticase top-scoring with 19 but once wickets began to fall it was difficult to get back on top of the bowling.

Mark Bishton (3-19) and Ranade (3-3 off six overs) were the pick of the Church Aston bowling effort.

The run chase started well with both openers looking solid at the crease with the score on 37-0. Change bowlers Seb McCarthy (2-17) and Archie Dickin (1-10) managed to make some inroads but with only 70 runs on the board it was always going to be an uphill task.

Hard hitting from G Saini (20) helped complete the run chase within 18 overs with just the three wickets lost.

Opening bowler Ben Williamson also deserves credit for an extremely promising five-over burst in what was only his second game for the side.

Cound II, 67 for 1 (20pts) beat

Frankton II, 66 all out (0pts)

FRANKTON II travelled to Cound and unfortunately came away with a nine-wicket defeat.

A key toss was lost with an extremely damp track suggesting batting first was never going to be the chosen option.

The Frankton opening duo made a solid start to reach 24-0 but once openers Andy Main and Dave Powell both departed for 12, the innings capitulated to 66 all out, with only two other batsmen reaching double figures. James Owen (3-8) and Calum Marsh (4-14) bowled extremely well for the hosts.

Such a low total was going to be difficult to defend and it proved to be a quick chase with Cound reaching their target inside 15 overs, for the loss of just one wicket.

Dave Farrell (34 not out) and Adrian Rowe (28 not out) found the boundary frequently as only Rich Lammie featured in the wickets column (1-19).

Cae Glas II, 74 for 6, (4pts) drew with

Condover II, 137 for 9, (15pts)

CAE GLAS II to played at home for the first time this season after early season rain relegated sufficiently.

But they found themselves on the wrong end of a one-sided losing draw against a Condover II side containing an excellent mix of youth and experience.

The visitors were asked to bat on a damp track and were rightly pleased after scoring a total of 137 for 9 from their 40 overs.

For Condover, Andy Rose made a hard-hitting 48 and, for the home side, there were three wickets each for Andy Hughes and Paul Lawton, two wickets for Shaun Southern and two outfield catches for skipper Barry Vaughan.

In reply the Glas, missing several regular batters, never really got going against an attack providing very few loose deliveries.

The hosts finished on 74 for 6, with skipper Mike Hafenden and Henry Rose hitting well to claim two wickets each for the visitors.

Waterloo's Chris Proctor foils this headed attempt by Llanidloes' Jack Bermingham.

Meredith double strike helps bring Morda cup joy at last

MORDA UNITED bounced back from their Shropshire Challenge Cup final defeat to win the Shropshire County Premier League cup with a 3-0 victory over Ludlow Town.

A brace from Gary Meredith and a Dan Graham goal ensured manager Craig Rogers would have some silverware to show for a strong first season in charge.

The game, at Shrewsbury Sports Village on Saturday was Morda's second cup final in five days following last Tuesday's 3-1 loss to Midland Alliance side Bridgnorth.

But Rogers said his side's heroic performance against a team which plays four levels above them had only inspired his players to make sure they did not come home empty-handed at the second time of asking.

"It made us more determined to get the win this time," he said. "It helped psychologically, and physically the lads are used to playing two games a week so that was not a problem."

He also praised his goalscorers but was also quick to acknowledge the contribution of his whole squad, and particularly his defensive players.

United had to weather some difficult moments before Meredith and Graham struck within two minutes of each other to give their team a 2-0 half-time lead.

Central defenders Joe Coulson and Carl Harris did well to contain Town striker

FOOTBALL by Matt Viney

Nathan Hodge, who forced a decent save from Morda keeper Sam Jones before the break.

Andrew Walker also had an effort deflected for Town before Meredith headed in Graham's cross to open the scoring. Graham doubled the lead a minute later from Scott Graham's pass.

Ludlow's Daniel Gower had a header cleared off the line six minutes after the restart and he was later denied by two further saves before Meredith completed the scoring three minutes from time.

"It was a good team performance. Defensively we have to do well against Ludlow because they have got some very good attackers," said Rogers. "Joe Coulson and Carl Harris were fantastic."

"Dan (Graham) and Gary (Meredith) have both played their part too but so has everybody else. Goalscorers get more recognition but the whole team has played a part."

"It is great to win things as a manager but I am delighted for the lads and the club more than myself."

Morda were due to play their final game of the league season last night away at Dawley Villa FC knowing that victory would also guarantee them a third place finish in the premier division.

Rovers in shock win to secure league cup glory

WATERLOO Rovers ended the season on a high by pulling off a shock to win the Spar League Cup with a 2-1 victory over fancied Llanidloes at Montgomery.

Rovers looked dead and buried when they lost Scott Holley to a second yellow card after the break and the Daffs took advantage to go ahead through a Gareth Mansell header from Karl Seliars cross.

But Llanidloes conceded a penalty through skipper Jack Bermingham as Rovers continued to catch them on the break, with Will Pritchard finding the back of the net from the spot.

And the winning goal came three minutes from time to send the Rovers bench and followers wild.

Ricky Lichfield, who had caused problems all afternoon, wriggled free on the right and latched onto a loose ball to fire home across the face of the goal.

Delighted Rovers boss Dale Roberts said: "Saturday was a brilliant occasion, with us winning our first ever Mid Wales League cup."

"When you add up the fact that we went down to 10 men so early on in the second half plus the fact that Llani brought an army of fans, it was a terrific result."

"We went in as underdogs and I don't think many gave us a hope, but that seems to be the Waterloo way and the lads always seem to rise to the toughest occasions."

"This was no smash and grab result with us being worthy winners and looking dangerous on the counter."

"It was a fully deserved victory with the best team on the day taking the spoils."

"This victory is testament to the hard work of not only the players but all board members and followers of the club who work so tirelessly to improve the club."

A few days earlier, Waterloo Rovers went out of the Central Wales Cup with a 4-1 semi-final defeat to Penrhynoch, with Steve Laws on the mark.

Rovers made their Cymru Alliance opponents fight all the way, were 1-1 after a hour, before being downed in the latter stages.

SHREWSBURY started the stronger in this League Cup final team and after 90 seconds were 1-0 up when some quick passing and a good through ball found their striker 12 yards out and he made no mistake firing into the bottom corner.

For the next 10 minutes Shrewsbury were on top and if not for the centre back pairing for Byron Edwards and Harri Griffiths Llanymynech could have been further behind.

The game swung in Llanymynech's favour after 20 minutes when first Harry Garthwaite fired home from the edge of the box after he was found by right back Tom Williams and then when Ryan Jones came off the bench to first score from 12 yards after a good square pass from Harry Garthwaite and then minutes later returned the favour after controlling a high ball into the box to find Garthwaite who made no mistake from eight yards.

Llanymynech started the second half well and were playing some excellent football, the game looked won five minutes into the second half when Garthwaite was found unmarked in the box and fired in his third and the team's fourth.

Shrewsbury were not finished however and in a valiant attempt to get back into the game they sacrificed two defenders and with four up top threw everything at Llanymynech but the defence stood firm and with Shrewsbury pouring forward Llanymynech were able to exploit the space at the back and even though the Shrewsbury keeper managed some good saves the fifth goal finally came when Will Roberts slotted home in the bottom right corner.

The win meant that Llanymynech were able to complete the double of League and Cup.

There were some strong candidates for Man of the Match but in the end it went to Ryan Jones for his game changing contribution in the ten minutes before and after half time.

Under 15 Shrewsbury up & Con-ers 2-1 Llanymynech 0

Llanymynech put in an excellent performance against the league champions in the League Cup final.

They battled hard for the whole game and even though they eventually lost 2-0 they could very proud of their performance especially as when the teams last met in the league the score was 10-0.

UNDER 11 GIRLS

Saha 4 Llanymynech 1

The under 11 girls lost their Management Cup final against Saha but put in a great effort and with girls away on school trips had to play the whole game without any substitutes. Tash Powell got Llanymynech's goal.

OSWESTRY BOYS CLUB UNDER 14

Oswestry Boys Club won the league cup final against Whitchurch 6-2.

Oswestry played well in the first half to build up a 3-1 lead and despite Whitchurch utilising a long throw, Oswestry defended bravely and played excellent counter-attacking football.

Oswestry scorers were Nick Couch 3, Rhys Benbow, Louis Morris and Tom Worswick.

Boost for young talent in academy plans Final chance for TNS

A FOOTBALL academy will be developed in Oswestry and Mid-Wales under new plans, it has been revealed.

The proposed venture is being spearheaded by coaching company FC Academy Ltd, which is owned by AFC Telford's assistant manager Mike Davies, and other coaches.

The group plan to apply for academy status to the Football Association of Wales as soon as forms become available next month, said Davies.

It will be based at Spar Mid Wales division one Llansantffraid Village FC and Oswestry School, which has a new all-weather pitch currently under construction.

Should their application be successful, three academy teams will be run at U12s, U14s and U16s level under the Llansantffraid Village FC banner with coaching also provided for development groups at other ages.

Davies said: "There are a lot of good players in the area and we are trying to provide a service for a demand that is there."

He added that the academy will be free to enter and is set to be self-funded with support from Llansantffraid Village FC and Italian sportswear manufacturer Macron.

The coaching staff will be completed by Mike Digwood, Andy Poole, Rob Smith, Calum Vaughan and Neil Prescott.

Digwood said: "Our coaching methods will be based on the training methods used on the continent where the ball is used in all coaching drills."

"We believe in encouraging the players to become comfortable on the ball and to try and play football in all areas of the pitch."

Trials will take place on May 22 and 29 as well as June 9 for U8s to U12s and May 24 and 31 as well as June 9 for U13s to U16s.

For further information call Mike Digwood on 07969795529 or Andy Poole on 07970615945.

THE New Saints have won through to the national finals of the FAW Futsal Cup for the second successive year.

The inaugural Welsh Futsal Cup winners last season, TNS overcame GAP Connah's Quay and Glan Conwy by a solitary goal in both games in Bangor.

In the opening encounter of the group, Glan Conwy and Connah's Quay drew 4-4, before the Saints went on to beat Glan Conwy 4-3 and then sealed the group with a 7-6 win over Nomads, whom they beat in last year's final.

Also through to the finals are Conwy United and Saltney Town who will join TNS, Cardiff City, Cardiff Corries and Rhayader in Deeside on Sunday.

The winners will be nominated for the UEFA Futsal Cup in which the Saints travelled to Geneva last year.

but were pegged back before Matt Spender sealed victory for the hosts.

They remained on the pitch at the final whistle before learning they had narrowly missed out on promotion following Four Crosses' victory.

Meanwhile, Llanfyllin Town sealed seventh place after winning 5-1 at lowly Bont in their last outing of the season, the home side conceding their 100th league goal of the campaign in the process as they finished 13th.

After a goalless first half last week, Llanfair took the lead after the break through Paul Griffiths club spokesman Graham Yapp. "It's a great day for the club."

Missed

Llanfair boss Rhys Stephens, meanwhile, praised his troops for their efforts, despite narrowly missing out on promotion.

"We've finished with 67 points from 30 games which normally would be more than enough to get you promoted but this year it has been a very competitive league and we have just missed out," he said.

"I couldn't have asked for any

Joy for Crosses as comeback clinches promotion

FOUR CROSSES were in buoyant mood after grabbing promotion from the Spar Mid Wales League division two following a dramatic last day.

Starting the day in second position, Nick Popyk's side ensured runners-up spot and their ticket for division one with a 3-1 victory at fifth-placed Rhosgoch.

However, they could not afford any slips as their nearest challengers, local rivals Llanfair United, did their best to keep their promotion dream alive with a fine 2-1 home win over champions Aberaeron, but in the end had to settle for a third-place finish.

After carving a couple of early chances at Rhosgoch, Four Crosses had to come from behind as they found themselves trailing against the run of play on 38 minutes.

However, with man-of-the-match Steve Beckett and Ian Kynaston outstanding in midfield, they rallied with Jack Harris scoring twice. Richie Harris nodded a super third to settle the nerves.

Barton is livid with the sack at Berriew

MIKE BARTON is backing himself to return to management in the near future despite being stunned by Berriew's decision to sack him as manager, writes JOHN BRIDGWATER.

The experienced goal-keeper and ex-Guilsfield boss took charge at Berriew after Neil Pryce stepped aside in October and steered the club to a mid-table finish in the Spar Mid Wales League Division One.

And Barton admitted he was "stunned" after being told he was being sacked so that club stalwart Mike Pearce could come in to succeed him.

The outgoing boss said: "I am absolutely devastated as I was already planning for next season."

"I had players coming in that would have made us a side capable of challenging for the title."

"Even they said I have done nothing wrong."

"It was never going to be a quick fix."

"This season was always going to be tough with a lot of players coming in and out."

"But everyone knew it was about planning for next season, so I feel very badly let down by the club."

"I have put a lot of time and effort into the job, often putting the club first before work and even family commitments."

Berriew have not issued a statement regarding the sacking but have placed their faith in club stalwart Pearce who, in contrast, has a wealth of experience in Mid Wales football.

Cobra's cup final is now this weekend

COBRA's big cup final date with Ruthin in the North Wales Youth Cup has been put back to this Saturday with the venue now changed to Wrexham.

The Meifod lads had been scheduled to take on Ruthin at Colwyn Bay last week, but the final ended up being put back seven days as their rivals still had to complete their league programme.

COBRA can go into the game in good heart following an excellent season that saw them finish runners-up in the North Wales Youth League division one.

Also, they have already beaten Ruthin once at home this season while drawing the away game.

Welshpool's Dan Jones shows off his medal haul

Games glory dream for Dan

A YOUNG swimmer from Welshpool has taken the latest step on a path that he hopes will one day lead to Commonwealth Games glory, writes MATT VINEY.

Dan Jones, who competes for Oswestry Otters Swimming Club, has bagged three medals for Wales in the Sainsbury's Schools Games.

The 15-year old, who attends Welshpool High School, won gold, silver and bronze in different events at the new Olympic Aquatic Centre, which will host this year's Olympic swimming competitions.

Jones also had the honour of appearing on stage at the opening ceremony of the event which saw 1600 children take part in 12 Olympic and Paralympic events.

The teenage hopeful recorded a new personal best as he won gold in the individual 50 metres freestyle before winning silver as part of a four-strong team in the 4x100m relay.

The team also broke the Junior Welsh Record by seven seconds in a super performance.

Jones completed a hat-trick of medals as part of the 4x200m freestyle team which took bronze.

The latest accolades come after Jones managed to qualify for the Olympic trials earlier this year.

Dreams

He was subsequently unable to make the Olympic qualifying times but at his young age, Oswestry Otters coach and chairman Peter Fynes said he has time on his side to realise his dreams of competing at the highest international levels.

"It is his ambition to go to the Commonwealth Games," he said.

"It is pretty competitive to make the Welsh squad for the schools games and it will give him experience competing at a high level.

"Within the county he hasn't had a huge amount of competition for the past few years so it is good for him to be pushed."

Jones, who is aiming to make the Great Britain team for Glasgow 2014, added: "It was an amazing experience to be part of the schools games and use all of the facilities in and around Olympic Park."

"It felt such an honour to be walking out of the same call room that the Olympic finalists will be using in the Summer, swimming in the pool before them and being presented with my medals at the Olympic pool."

Dan will travel to Switzerland with the Welsh junior team for the Bellinzona Open Meet at the end of the month before taking part in the British junior championships later this summer.

Boss Mario steps down with safety in the bag

MARIO IAQUINTA has stepped down as manager of Llanrhadridd after "three tremendous years with the club" despite seeing his side secure survival in the Huws Gray Cymru Alliance.

The Villagers kept their place in the Cymru Alliance for a second season following a late reprieve from relegation, after events in other leagues went in their favour.

But Iaquina has decided to call it a day after taking his side from the lower reaches of the Spar Mid Wales League and into the Cymru Alliance in his reign.

Iaquina believes he is leaving the club in good shape and has no plans to manage a team elsewhere.

He said: "I have had three tremendous years with the club and felt now was the right time for me and for the club to stand down."

"I feel I have achieved a lot in my time, taking the club from third bottom in the Mid Wales League to finish sixth in my first season."

"We then won the league the following year, losing just three games and, last season, proved we can compete in the Cymru Alliance."

"This is something I have been considering and I feel it needs someone new to come in and take the club forward. Now is the right time to go."

"It's a fantastic club, the committee are one of the best in Mid Wales and there are a lot of good young players at the club."

"By going now, it will give the new man time to plan ahead for the new season."

As well as proving their league credentials, Llanrhadridd also reached finals in the Central Wales Cup and Montgomeryshire Cup in recent seasons and, during that time, have carried out many improvements to their ground.

The young reserves are also making their mark in the Montgomeryshire League, which bodes well for the future of the club.

Assistant Norman Evans has also decided to call time on his role which he took up last year, after Jamie Davies joined Llansantffraid.

Davies is believed to be on a hit list of candidates but the club is also inviting interested parties.

SKIPPER LOOKING TO BOUNCE BACK

OSWESTRY will aim to extend their unbeaten start to the season by notching their second win of the campaign at home to Streetly on Saturday.

The Shropshire side came close to securing it last weekend but had to settle for a frustrating winning draw away at Penn.

They rallied to a total of 215-8, but the home side managed 103-6 in reply to deny the visitors victory.

Having finished fourth in Birmingham & District Premier League division three last season Oswestry club captain Mike Robinson said the team is determined to push for promotion this season and they will be looking to bounce back to winning ways this weekend.

"We came close last year and if we had won our last two games we would have won the league so we will be looking to improve on that this season," he said.

"Last weekend we did well to get the score we did and we didn't think at any stage we would lose but Streetly shut up shop after losing some early wickets and we couldn't bowl them out."

Return

"We are pleased with the start we have made but we want to get more wins on the board."

Oswestry will be boosted by the return of opening batsman Joe Carrasco who has missed the first three games of the season with a shin injury.

"It will certainly help to have him back. We have got some good cover but he is a good player so it will be a boost," said Robinson.

But Jonathan Miles' chances of being involved are currently rated as 50-50 after he picked up a hamstring strain batting in Saturday's game.

That aside, Oswestry will be at full strength and Robinson is hoping his side will produce another strong batting performance this weekend.

Warrick Fynn led the scoring for the visitors on Saturday with 54 runs before being caught by Richard Brooker, while Miles and Clint Brockman reached 42 and 40 respectively.

There were also some strong fielding performances with Mark Robinson taking 2-31 off 17 overs. Brockman, Ian Davies, Fynn and 16-year-old Charlie Morris all took a wicket each – the latter grabbing his first senior wicket when he dismissed Adam Quiney for nine.

Patrick Smitheman welcomes Christine Harris to Harwood The Estate Agent.

Property expert in Harwood team

EXPERIENCED property specialist Christine Harris has expanded the team at Harwood The Estate Agent of Broseley.

Christine has enjoyed a 30 years-plus career in the property industry in which she has set up a re-location company and run her own estate agency.

She started by selling new build properties as well as part exchange for a developer before moving to Shropshire 16 years ago.

She joined Savills in Telford as a negotiator and within nine months became an associate and head of their residential sales team.

She spent three years with Savills before setting up a re-location company, buying large houses for clients. In 2005 she ran her own estate agency, and in 2011 became a very proud grandmother.

Christine, 54, has joined Harwood The Estate Agent as a negotiator and valuer, and director Patrick Smitheman is delighted to welcome her on board.

He said: "It is wonderful to have someone with Christine's experience and the offering she brings to our firm."

"Because she is such an all-rounder, I feel she will bring something into every aspect of my business from valuations to negotiations and customer liaison. I am very pleased to have her as an important addition to the team."

Town firm's FloodAlerts app wins praise from ministers

GOVERNMENT ministers and the Environment Agency have praised a Shrewsbury software company for creating the first interactive warning system for flooding on a social networking site.

Shoothill, which is based on the Battlefield Enterprise Park in Shrewsbury, has developed the new FloodAlerts application on Facebook which gives residents advance warning through their online accounts.

It is licensed by the EA and gives people updates on the latest flood alerts from the organisation which are reviewed every 15 minutes.

In a briefing about the application, FloodAlerts was described as an 'innovative application that will give people better and easier access to flood warning information through social media'.

In order to highlight the application, Shrewsbury & Atcham MP Daniel Kawczynski wrote to the Minister for Natural Environment detailing the application and its importance, especially after the wettest April on record.

In response, Environment Minister Richard Benyon said: "This is a fantastic example of private sector involvement in this important area and shows powerfully how social media tools can be exploited and utilised for wider, real world benefits." Mr Kawczynski said: "As the MP in a town that suffers hugely as a result from the Severn flooding, I know the anxiety caused by heavy rainfall and raising river levels."

by David Seadon

"I was very interested therefore to see the excellent FloodAlerts application from Shoothill and its managing director Rod Plummer."

"I was really pleased when I wrote to the Environment Minister that he shared my enthusiasm for the technology and contacted the EA to highlight the application with them."

He added: "For those who are at risk from flooding who do not use Facebook, I would encourage them to visit the EA website and sign up for free flood warnings that are sent direct by telephone, mobile, e-mail, SMS text message, fax or pager."

Businesses team up for hi-tech evening

Tina Boyle of Bang & Olufsen and Keiran Prout of AT Computers preparing for the joint event.

SHREWSBURY businesses selling two of the world's leading brands are joining forces for an event tonight, Thursday.

Audio visual store Bang & Olufsen, of Shrewsbury's High Street, has linked up with Apple specialists AT Computers, in the Darwin Centre.

The two businesses are holding a social evening at the Bang & Olufsen showroom from 5.30pm until 8pm, which will show people how the two ranges can work together.

"Many of our products are designed to complement each other and work together. For example, we have just launched a new television, the Beoplay V1, which is competitively priced and has some amazing features," explained Tina Boyle of B&O.

"It enables viewers to play any music, films and photographs on it from their iPhone or iPad via a wireless link. We are also just launching a new speaker frame for an iPad which is very impressive."

Kieran Prout of AT Computers said: "Both Apple and Bang & Olufsen produce the highest quality, innovative products for the personal entertainment and communication sectors and we are always delighted to join forces for events."

A masterstroke for golfing trip to France

For four golfers on a trip to Northern France there could have been no better mode of transport than Volkswagen's Caravelle.

This seven-seater beauty was made for the job and the special edition model finished in candy white stood out in any company.

Only 225 UK examples of the Caravelle Edition 25 are available in the UK and they are instantly recognisable thanks to a revised front bumper, xenon headlights with LED running lights and black highlights running the length of the vehicle.

DRIVE TIME
with Graham Breeze

Exclusive satin black 18in alloy wheels add to the vehicle's appearance.

Based on the well-equipped SE specification, the Caravelle Edition 25 adds three-zone "Climatronic" air conditioning so the driver and rear passengers can control the temperature in their own areas.

There's a voice-activated satellite navigation and Bluetooth telephone preparation, parking sensors with reversing camera, and Volkswagen's Lane Change Assist system which monitors the vehicle's blind spots.

The Caravelle can carry up to seven, with a row of seats that swivel to face the rear and create an exclusive lounge environment, while passengers can get in and out of the Caravelle easily thanks to electric sliding doors.

Two-tone

As you'd expect, the interior is well appointed with seats stylishly upholstered in two-tone leather.

Volkswagen's refined and powerful 2.0-litre Bi-Turbo common rail diesel engine produces 180PS, and is coupled to a seven-speed DSG gearbox as standard.

The standard model has front-wheel drive, or there is the option of Volkswagen's highly accomplished 4MOTION all-wheel drive system.

"Storage space is exceptional, with a variety of storage compartments in just about every available location"

The Caravelle Edition 25 is well equipped and has stylish upholstery

The striking Volkswagen Caravelle Edition 25 is a seven-seater

The Edition 25 accelerates from a standstill to 62 mph in 11.3 seconds with a top speed of 119 mph.

On a 700-mile round trip the Caravelle returned over 30mpg and won the approval of all four passengers for comfort and ride quality.

The high driving position means you get to see a lot more than you would usually expect. Rear vision is superb thanks to wide fitting electrically operated door mirrors and the reversing camera.

Safety is high on VW's list with this model. There's BS braking, traction control, stabilisation programme, traction control and engine braking control to ensure the ride is as safe as possible.

There's also front, side and curtain airbags and an electronic engine immobilizer, remote central locking with deadlocking and an alarm system.

Storage space is exceptional, with a variety of storage compartments in just about every available location.

The Caravelle Edition 25 is available to order now from Volkswagen with prices starting at £44,995 on the road.

That's a lot of money which is why the model has only a small market target but if this is the sort of vehicle that suits your demands you will get an awful lot for your money.

WIN tickets to Cosford Air Show

THE 2012 Air Show on Sunday, June 17 brings a variety of military and civilian aircraft together to produce a spectacular five and a half hour display. Featuring the wonders of the RAF Red Arrows and Battle of Britain Memorial Flight, a role demonstration from the RAF's Tornado including pyrotechnics, the vintage pair Meteor and Vampire and the Royal Naval Historic Flight to name a few. This year's show is set to be one of the most exciting yet, and we have 12 pairs of tickets to give away in tonight's competition.

Experience first hand the fantastic training the Royal Air Force provides with demonstrations from the specialisations of Aeronautical Engineering, Information and Communication Technology, Physical Training and Tri-service Photography, all part of the Defence College and schools at RAF Cosford.

For those a little too young to join up, the RAF Air Cadets will be there to exhibit the many different opportunities available for teenagers with interactive displays, climbing walls and further information on how you and your children can get involved.

On the ground there is plenty to keep the whole family entertained, from fairground rides and sophisticated simulator rides to musical displays from the RAF Regiment Band and the Cosford Voluntary Band. If you are looking for retail therapy you will be spoilt for choice with an indoor craft fair, plenty of market stalls and exhibits on the airfield and in our hangars as well as free entry to the RAF Museum.

Tickets will be £25 on the gate (cash only on the day), £20 in advance and free for children under 16 when accompanied by an adult. All major credit cards are accepted on the 24-hour ticket line: 0871 230 1083 (calls cost 10p per min plus network charges).

Marque continues to drive ahead on sales

Kia's April performance couldn't quite match the record rainfall the country endured but the brand continued its remarkable 2012 performance delivering 5,120 new vehicles to customers during the month.

Although that figure was down by just over 100 units compared to the company's record April at the height of scrappage in 2010, the market share in April rose to 3.6 per cent – continuing a dramatic growth rate so far this year. Total sales so far in 2012 reached 22,331, up from 18,311 in 2011.

And importantly for Kia's enormous investment in its Slovakian production facility, European-sourced vehicles in the year so far reached a new record proportion of 48.6 per cent of all Kia's sold in the UK.

This performance is an interesting facet to Kia's growth in the UK. Since the first cee'd models rolled out of the Zilina factory for delivery to the UK in 2007, the importance of EU-sourced vehicles has steadily grown.

In that first year of 2007 European vehicles represented almost 23 per cent of Kia's sales in the UK. By the end of last year that proportion had risen to slightly over 46 per cent. Already this year European-built vehicles represent 48.6 per cent of Kia sales in the UK – and in April itself the proportion was even higher at 53.7 per cent. Michael Cole, managing director of Kia Motors (UK) Limited said: "Although the UK economy is not yet out of the woods, there are signs that growth may come back slowly, but steadily. Retail sales are holding up strongly and business sales are also showing improvement."

"For Kia, our European-built product is continuing to prove remarkably successful with existing cee'd, Venga and Sportage all playing their parts. When the all-new cee'd arrives in June we expect the performance of our European-built models to go still higher."

It clearly demonstrates that if you are building attractive, quality new cars at a fair price there are customers willing to support you," he added.

The new Audi TT RS Plus. Prices range from £48,945 to £52,265 for the roadster with S tronic gearbox

Plus will deliver more power for the UK market

A more powerful Audi TT RS has been confirmed for the UK market.

Called the TT RS Plus, its greater muscle is complemented by an electronically-raised top speed limit. It has already been seen at motor shows, but until now it wasn't known whether it would come to the UK.

For a £3,085 price premium over the existing TT RS, the Plus also features larger 19in alloy wheels in a unique design, a different grille and carbon fibre-reinforced polymer (CFRP) door mirror housings.

Standard

Black, oval exhaust tailpipe trims show that the Plus is fitted as standard with a sports exhaust system.

Power has been raised by 20bhp, from 335bhp to 355bhp. Torque is up from 332 to 343lb/ft, and with the higher numbers comes a reduced 0-62mph sprint of 4.1 seconds with the optional S tronic dual-clutch gearbox.

The manual version takes 4.3 seconds.

Top speed is no longer limited to 155mph, again to differentiate the Plus from the standard TT RS. The new figure, 174mph, is the equivalent of 280kph.

The range will be priced from £48,945 on the road for the manual coupe, rising to £52,265 for the roadster with the S tronic gearbox.

Birthday Remembrances

Brenda

Birds, why bother to sing, our eyes can't meet, our arms can't cling, she was our night, she was our day, high above the cloud and rain, away from all the hurt and pain, now you've gone, love will never be the same, empty broken hearts remain, wish we could have you back again. HANWOOD 11 (200), PONTESBURY A 1 (144): The derby game saw the home side capture a big win for Bob Challinor won 21-11 at the start. The Wood then reeled off the next nine games with Stuart Dodd (21-7) and John Mansell (21-9) their top pair.

OXON 6 (174), FORD 6 (179): The Homesters won six games with Martin McKinley 21-12 but the Tractor Boys took the aggregate with the help of Ken Sant (21-6) and Craig Jones (21-8).

TELEPOST A 8 (177), POWBC C 4 (158): A good home win for the Posties who lost this fixture last year. Tom Butler and Nigel Williams shared the coppers with 21-6 while the Hunpers best were John Davies (21-10) and Will Roberts (21-11).

BRICKLAYERS A (165), PRINCE HOTEL 8 (174): The Hotel started well and led with Doug Pugh's 21-8 which was matched by John Dorsett for the Brick. The Wrenn was shared, then Tony Williams 21-8 for the Brick, which was countered as Graeme Wornell won 21-7 for the Hotel.

MEOLE A 3 (156), CASTLEFIELDS A 9 (194): Meole shared the front four but then the Fields took control with four in the middle including Adam Jones (21-6) and Micky Pritchard (21-9). Dave Kirk got the victory with 21-11 at the end.

UNISON A 6 (171), CRESCENT A 6 (178): Great match between the two sides by the Shire-hall as they renewed acquaintances after last season's promotion. The Crescent managed a good away win as Andy Gregg with 21-7 helped them through to a seven-chalks margin, although Unison's Mike Hughes helped to limit the effect of this with a 21-8 at the same time.

RESERVE DIVISION TWO

BAGLEY A 5 (164), OSBC B 7 (169): A tight contest which saw Bagley 5-3 up with Bob Bishop 21-7 and Colin Clayton 21-3 while the Shrews had a 21-5 from Martin Francis and 21-9 from Norman Barkley. The Shrews then took the last two games and the match with Amy Ryder winning 21-12.

MEOLE B 9 (193), MEOLE C 3 (159): The home side took honours in a match which only had one single, figure card as George Spain won 21-7 while the 'C' Siders had Clive Fisher and Brian Smith going 21-15.

OSBC A 8 (187), FRANKWELL A (167): The Shrews led 3-1 then shared the next two sections which saw Rich Jones 21-10 pinch the coppers from Dave Morgan's earlier 21-11. The Borough's top man was "over and out" as Roger Houston won 21-8.

PONTESBURY B 8 (183), ST JULIANS A 4 (171): A steady win for the Nags in a match played on a super surface. The result was close until Ernie Glanbrook won 21-14 at the end to add to John Gilder's earlier 21-9 while for the visiting Saints Mark Parry was top Prior, 21-10.

CORBBT ARMS 9 (186), REMAN SERVICES 3 (163): The Arms led 4-0 with two 21-13 and two 21-20 winners. The middle was then shared with The Arms' Paul Jones 21-10, 16-10 and Reman's George Spain 21-7 shared with Sam Hill a 21-9 winner for Reman.

RESERVE DIVISION THREE

BICTON VILLAGE 3 (160), BICTON A 9 (187): Bicton won their inter-club clash and lead the division by a point. Ken Barrow and Dave Conde's 21-10 and a 21-7 from Kevin Price continued their impressive start to the season. Two close games went against the Village while the 'home' coppers went to Julie Williams with 21-11.

FORD B 9 (185), MONKMOOR 3 (169): Second-placed Ford B went 4-0 up with Mal Isaac winning 21-10. The Monk rallied with their three winners all coming in the middle with Pete Mackay best with 21-4.

PRINCE SOCIAL 8 (177), MINSTERLEY 4 (163): Games shared off the front with Minsterley's Jason Rowson's 21-9 giving them the edge on the aggregate. However, Glen Hughes (21-5) and Norman Payne (21-7) gave the Prince the initiative in the middle, despite an excellent 21-8 from Sam Cox for the visitors.

PONTESBURY C 8 (184), UNISON B 4 (119): A walkover combined with 21-4s from Maureens Charles and John Lupton, Clive Luther (21-5) and Keith Tate Junior (21-6) helped give Pontesbury a 6-5 chalk win. Unison, however, battled well for four useful points with Vi Wynne (21-12) just finishing better than Mary Meredith with 21-13.

CRESCENT B 10 (200), CASTLEFIELDS B 2 (160): Third-placed Crescent B dropped just seven chalks as Carl Wear (21-15) and George Marston (21-20) won for the Fields. Harry Ryder was best of the eight home winners with 21-8.

RESERVE DIVISION FOUR

ST JULIANS B 5 (179), NEW HANWOOD 7 (181): New Hanwood won a close match by two chalks. The games were shared at each stage and the last two games both finished 21-20 to emphasise just how tight it was. Best home card of the evening came from Joan Gregg with 21-9 and James Mansell took the away honours with 21-11.

GREENFIELDS SOCIAL B 9 (176), BAYSTON HILL B 3 (160): Greenfields Social B enjoyed their first win of the season despite a great 21-2 from Bayston's Julian Archer. It was 3-1 to the Social off the front with Mike Kopitbeek's 21-6.

ELEPHANT & CASTLE 8 (176), PONTESBURY D 4 (148): Derrick Shingler (21-6) and Richard Leah (21-7) helped the Elephant on their way. Pontesbury had a good middle with three winners, including Mary Tudor (21-7).

CASTLEFIELDS C 6 (175), SPORTING TELEPOST 6 (177): Leaders Sporting Telepost had their closest match so far but still came out holding their 100 per cent record, R Phillips (21-6) and A Tipton (21-8) had the key cards for the league leaders while N Hyde had the best score the hosts with 21-12.

WORTHEN & BROCKTON 3 (149), BAGLEY B 9 (188): A good away win for Bagley with Richard Green 21-6 and a pair of nines from Russ Maddocks and Mike Perks. Worthen's best came at the front with Ralph Greaves winning 21-10.

POWBC A 6 (180), BRICKLAYERS B 6 (169): The Brick had six winners but despite a fine 21-7 from Shaun Lane at No 10 could not do enough to clinch the aggregate points.

The POW got off to a great start with Tom Gregory's best with 21-3.

Beth Coupland - convincing winner Ewan Grivell-Mellor - unlucky

Young riders show potential

JUNIOR members of local club Mid Shropshire Wheelers underlined their exciting potential at recent events at Curborough and Birmingham as they geared up for the Isle of Man Youth Tour.

Beth Coupland was a convincing winner of the under-14 girls class in atrocious weather at the Lichfield CC Circuit races on the Curborough Circuit.

Ewan Grivell-Mellor was a little unlucky at Curborough when, having broken away from the under-14 pack and been away solo for six laps, the under-16 race caught the under-14 race with the under-16s dragging some under-14s along for the ride.

Ewan was eventually beaten in the sprint by Oli Peckover from East Midlands.

Meanwhile, George Rowlands broke away early at the Birmingham CC road race and using his head he was a convincing sprint winner from the break of four riders.

Shrewsbury u-18s clinch county title

SHREWSBURY Sixth Form College boys under-18 side have been crowned as county hockey champions.

They beat Adams Grammar School 3-1 on penalties following a tense final which ended 1-1 with Jack Middleton on target for Shrewsbury. Extra time failed to separate the sides so the result was decided on penalty strokes.

FANKTON skipper Jordan Parry hailed opener Ian Whitticase's century as "exceptional" after it set up a 17-point winning draw over COUND in division one.

Whitticase struck 13 boundaries en route to a fluent 108, his maiden first team ton, and with steady support from Lloyd Phillips (24) and Jason Brookes (20), it lifted the Frankton score up to a challenging 244-7. Matt Jones, the Cound skipper, took 3-43.

Cound, in reply, closed off the pace on 171-8 with Graham Trow (35) and Rob McIntosh (23no) the top scorers as Frankton were well served with the ball by Richard Parry-Jones (3-39) and skipper Parry (3-41).

ALBERBURY were convincing seven-wicket victors over Forton. James Harrap and Andy Holloway both grabbed 4-16 from matching 10 over spells as Forton were skittled for 69.

Charles Bourne struck 26 as Alberbury had few problems in cruising to 72-3.

A half-century from Richard Williams could not prevent KNOCKIN & KINNERLEY from going down by six wickets at home to much-fancied Allscott.

Opener Williams hit 50 while Steve Gray (45) and Hugh Morris (27) also weighed in to boost the Knockin total to 163-9.

David Finney, who ended 79 not out, anchored the Allscott chase as the visitors advanced to 164-4 inside 25 overs.

Serplet hoping that Reman's strength in depth will shine

REMAN SERVICES skipper Mal Serplet is confident his side's strength in depth will again serve them well ahead of Saturday's tricky trip to Quatt in the Shropshire County Cricket League Premier Division.

Without a trio of regulars in Craig Heath, Darren Bullock and Jamie Wear, the replacements drafted in from Reman's second team, all contributed to a convincing eight-wicket home win over Much Wenlock last weekend.

Heath and Bullock will once again miss out at Quatt but Serplet has no doubts the likes of Mike Griffiths, Stewart Gwilt and Matthew Richards can continue to make their mark in the first team.

Serplet said: "The three guys who were promoted from the second team did well and won us the game really. We had a bit of bad week, in terms of availability.

"But it proved that we've got good strength in depth.

"We had picked up a couple of winning draws in the early weeks of the season but this was our first victory, so that was good.

"We've now got a couple of tough games coming up in Quatt and then Newport, so it's nice to go into them with a win under our belts."

Serplet also stressed the importance of Reman quickly getting back on track after tasting defeat for the first time in 18 months when Wem beat them at Albert Road a week earlier.

Reaction

The Australian joked he had told his players his own unbeaten record remained intact as he missed that match owing to worm commitments in China, adding "it was a good response."

Shane Gwilt, Mark Tooze and the consistent Dominic Bradburne claimed three wickets apiece as Wenlock were dismissed for 109.

Stewart Gwilt, Shane's younger brother, then top scored with 38 and Richards was unbeaten on 28 as Reman eased to 110-2.

SHELTON were delighted to break their winning duck for the season, as Shaun Davis played the starring role in their 73 run verdict over near neighbours BOMERE HEATH.

Shelton, who head to Much Wenlock on Saturday, were a precarious 36-5 when Davis, at No 5, joined forces with Ben Chambers to put on 120 for the sixth wicket.

Former Frankton man Davis plundered 83 from 75 balls, hitting eight fours and four sixes, and he was well supported by the dependable Chambers (39) as they lifted the Shelton total up to 159-8, despite the best efforts of Chris Stevens (3-26) and Ian Gillespie (3-39) in reply.

Bomere were then skittled

for 86 inside 26 overs with Sam Bloor (37) the only man to offer any resistance.

Davis grabbed the key wicket of Gillespie, bowled for just a single, while Jamie Martindale (3-14) and skipper Steve Griffiths (3-39) also enjoyed themselves with the ball.

Bomere will hope to perform much better at home to a St Georges side recently relegated from the Birmingham League on Saturday.

WROXETER are another side who will be looking for a big improvement, in their case away at Albrighton, following a miserable 10-wicket drubbing against Ludlow at Uppingham.

Wroxeter, stuck in, found runs hard to come by as they were sent back for 69 after 34 tough overs at the crease.

Extras have a role in defeat

KNOCKIN & KINNERLEY III edged a division five thriller at Coton Hall - sealing an exciting three-wicket verdict with just five balls to spare.

Coton Hall battled first and accumulated a useful 196-5, thanks in chief to a fine second wicket stand of 129 between captain Gareth Rich (63) and Ryan Peate (61) before Vince McMahon also weighed in with an unbeaten 32. Barrie Hawkin (4-26) was the best bowler for the away side.

Knockin then timed their chase to perfection, skipper David Smith cracking an unbeaten 78 and Nigel Leadbetter contributing 35, as they progressed to 200-7, despite the best efforts of all-rounder Peate (4-39).

Coton were ultimately left to rue conceding no fewer than 39 extras.

BOMERE HEATH III maintained their early season form by pulling off a 46-run win at Welshpool III.

Chris Scott (54) and Mark Smout (31no) lifted the Bomere score up to 148-8.

Then father and son Martin and Adam James got to work with the ball to dismiss Welshpool for 102.

Adam bowled seven sharp overs for 6-13 and dad Martin also played a part, taking 2-13 from 10 miserly overs.

Condover stay on top early on CONDOVER made light work of wrapping up a 10 wicket hammering of Llandilo to stay as the early leaders in the Second Division.

Dougie Farr mopped up the tail in claiming 3-1 from 21 balls, while Jon Mansell (3-11) and Matt Farr (2-8) as Llandilo were skittled for just 37 inside 22 overs.

Such a chase proved easy pickings with Dougie Farr (19no) and Steve Nutting (16no) easing Condover to their modest target in 8.2 overs.

PONTESBURY blew ISCOYD & FENNIS BANK away for a paltry 28, as they ran out seven-wicket winners.

Fenns had no answer as Mike Davies (5-16) and Steve Wilson (4-4) wreaked havoc before Pontesbury hit back with 29-3, Matt Piatczynyn snaring 2-12 on a day when ball most certainly dominated bat.

ELLESMERE tasted defeat for the first time this term, going down by six wickets at Wellington III.

Adam Huxley (56) and tail ender Jack Cockayne (21no) proved the backbone to Ellesmere's 159 all out.

Graham Beardmore then took 2-18 but Wellington, inspired by Nick Mitchell's 94, managed to reach a figure of 160-4.

Veterans roll back the years in match

ISCOYD & FENNIS BANK II all-rounder Gordon Bebbington starred with bat and ball to set up a 143 run victory over WHITCHURCH IV in Division Six.

This game was also memorable for what could well be a league record combined age dismissal.

Whitchurch's Troy Newton headed back to the pavilion after being caught by John Faulkner off the bowling of Dave Gallagher, two men with a combined age of 143 years!

Fenns racked up 211-5 declared from their 38 overs thanks to steady knocks from Duncan Wright (42), Bebbington (36), James Nicholson (28) and Mark Mottershead (26).

Bebington then helped himself to 5-17 as Whitchurch, for whom opener Sean Groom made 23, were sent back for 68.

Mark Jeffries was another bowler to claim a five-for as his stand helped ELLESMERE II beat Calverhall II by five wickets.

Jeffries (5-24) and George Duncan (3-26) teamed up to dismiss Calverhall for 126.

Openers Tom Davies (36) and Kieran Barry (29) laid the foundations before Ellesmere responding with 130-5.

PONTESBURY III lost by 63 runs at Ludlow IV.

Useful bowling from Ryan Davies (4-32) and Jack Garson (3-23) sent Ludlow back for 145.

But Pontesbury, for whom Neil Morris (19) top scored, were then found wanting with the bat, as they succumbed for 82.

REMAN SERVICES III were gifted 20 points after Llandilo II, their hosts, conceded the game.

Harcourt in the runs but Gough holds out

HARCOURT continue to head in the right direction in division four after collecting a winning draw over Newport III at Edgmond.

Martin Owen, at No 5, cut loose to hit a fine 86, a knock complemented by Steve Jones (43) and Steve Owen (24) as Harcourt posted a competitive 219-9.

Steve Owen (3-61) and Andy Maher (2-34) then enjoyed some success with the ball as Newport, held together by an unbeaten 88 from opener David Gough, responded with 173-6.

WHITCHURCH III enjoyed a winning draw at home to Bridgnorth III.

Opener Matthew Fowles dominated the Whitchurch innings with 80 as the hosts amassed 200-7.

Then Jack Giddings bowled tidily for 3-18 as Bridgnorth closed off the pace on 167-6.

WEM III lost by six wickets at Calverhall.

Stalwart Mark Ellis top-scored with 47 as Wem were dismissed for 107 before Calverhall hit back with 110-4, Jack Parsons taking 2-22.

FRANKTON III stay bottom of the fledgling table following a seven-wicket setback at home to Church Aston, the Hardwick Park men having no way back after being shot out for just 70.

Dave Whitticase top-scored for Frankton with 19 while Seb McCarthy later took 2-17 in a losing cause.

GROVE power on at the top of the third division after seeing off Oswestry III by three wickets at Morda Road.

Stretton spring a surprise in Trophy

CHURCH STRETTON A have sprung a surprise by dumping Shropshire Chess League champions Telepost A out of this season's Cox Trophy, writes PETE KITCHEN.

Steve Rooney's side drew 2-2 at Abbey Foregate but progressed to a semi final against either Shifnal and Telford A or Wellington A on tie break.

Stretton stormed into a 2-0 lead thanks to Tiago Faustino's win on board three against Phil Zabrocki and Trevor Brotherton's victory over Nigel Ferrington on top board.

The hosts replied through victories for Richard Bryant over Rooney on board two and for Peter Crean over Graham Shepherd on bottom board.

But under tie break rules the bottom board result was eliminated, giving Stretton the win. An under strength Shrewsbury A were pushed hard before beating Ludlow 2.5-1.5.

Shrewsbury were without Jamie Hopkins and Peter Kitchen and the outcome was in the balance for much of the night. Captain David Everington drew with Joe Watson on top board and replacements Ian Davies and Matt Best drew their games on the bottom two boards.

Francis Best clinched the match for the hosts by beating John Whittaker in the deciding game on board two. Shrewsbury face a challenging trip to Newport A, who finished second to Telepost A in division one, in the semi finals.

In round one of the Minor Knockout Telepost B beat Oswestry B 3.5-0.5 to set up a county town derby against division three outfit Shrewsbury C in the quarter finals.

Steve Kempell drew with Ron Thompson on top board but Keith Tabner, Matthew Clark and John Casewell all won their games.

For Shrewsbury C it will be a second successive derby as they beat Telepost D 3.5-0.5 in round one. Ian Davies, Eric Inglis and Tony Purser all won their games but Kate Walker averted the white-wash by drawing with Andrew Lewis on board three.

Meanwhile the draw for the first round in Shrewsbury Town Championships has been made. Defending champion David Everington has the black pieces against Ivor Salter while top seed Nigel Ferrington will also have the black pieces against Dan Lockett.

Lawson is the winner

THE main event of the week at Springlea was Sunday's open match on the Orfe pool.

Richard Lawson was back to first this week with an excellent 82-15-0 from peg 16, he fished corn and pellet close in at 4m and down the edge to land carp to 5lb.

Second place went to Kenny Humphries at peg three, he fished chopped worm and pellet for 68-1-0, again carp to 5lb featuring Mike Buttery landed 53-9-0 at peg 23 for third place.

John Edwards was fourth with 49-2-0 at peg 31, all caught on pellet and paste while Paul Davies completed the frame with 46-0-0 at regular at York for the last few seasons.

Striker Andre Gray, meanwhile, has proved a real hit at Luton since joining the Hatters on loan from Hinckley earlier this season ahead of an imminent £30,000 summer switch.

Sundorne School celebrate their President's Plate trophy victory.

Teenage talents can't wait to catch Town boss Turner's eye

SHREWSBURY Town's two newest professionals could be excused for wishing the summer away as they target making an impact on the first team stage.

Elliot Turner and Ryan Woods, both 18, are thrilled to have made the step up from the youth team to the professional ranks after signing their first senior contracts at the Greenhous Meadow last week.

The two midfielders are both rated highly by Town's head of youth Wayne Evans and now they want to continue improving in the hope of catching the eye of boss Graham Turner once pre-season training gets under way on July 5.

Woods has penned a one-year deal while Turner, youth team captain last season, will be pushing hard to earn an extension to his initial six-month contract.

"I've got to work hard to try and get myself in the squad and prove myself really," said Woods, from Norton Canes in Staffordshire.

"There's not many things that happen round there so everyone knows about it and it's great for everyone around the area. Hopefully I can keep pushing now and just get to the next level."

Woods, who turned 18 in December, joined Town at under-15 level having previously spent five years attached to Walsall. And the fact his promotion to the pro ranks coincides with Town moving up to League One, he admitted, was a huge bonus.

Fantastic

"It's fantastic news for me and everyone attached to the club," stressed Woods.

"It's a better standard, there will be better facilities where we're going and it's just great news."

Woods is delighted to have been joined in the first team squad by his good friend Turner, the duo having developed a decent understanding in the youth team.

Turner, who was 18 in March, is also a West Midlander, in his case from Dudley, although he now lives in the Bridgnorth area.

He was with Wolves from the age of six to 16, joining Shrewsbury after being released from Molineux.

"I came here as an under-16, signed a scholarship under Dave Hughes and that gave me the opportunity to prove myself," said Turner.

"I've just loved my two years here, and I'm just looking forward to the six months I've got on my contract."

"I was youth team captain last season which was a big honour for me and I got double figures in goals as well."

"Ryan and I have always been good friends throughout the scholarship programme and I'm pleased that we both got offers."

"We'll kick on together and aim to do as well as we can."

Both Turner and Woods agree it's a source of encouragement that Town are regarded as a club prepared to give youngsters a chance to shine as they get ready to join fellow home-grown prospects Jon Taylor, Connor Goldson and Tom Bradshaw in the first team squad.

"They've set the bar now for the young lads coming through and obviously we want to match," added Turner.

Old-boys on Wembley way Club secure family honour

TWO Shrewsbury Town old boys will go head-to-head at Wembley for a place in the Football League this weekend.

It's the Blue Square Premier final on Sunday and a former Greenhous Meadow man will be on either side as York City and Luton Town battle it out for a return to the Football League.

James Meredith, the Australian defender signed by Gary Peters and released by Paul Simpson, has been a regular at York for the last few seasons.

Striker Andre Gray, meanwhile, has proved a real hit at Luton since joining the Hatters on loan from Hinckley earlier this season ahead of an imminent £30,000 summer switch.

Gray, who emerged from the youth ranks at Shrewsbury to play a handful of first team games, has quickly become a crowd favourite at Kenilworth Road and was on target in their play-off semi-final success against Wrexham.

Meredith and York are chasing a second Wembley victory in quick succession after beating Newport County in front of a crowd of just under 20,000 in the FA Trophy final last Saturday.

There was another Town old boy involved in that game with Newport goalkeeper Glyn Thompson having little chance with either of the two second half goals which beat him.

SHREWSBURY Town has been awarded The Football League Family Excellence Award for the 2011-12 season.

It is the fifth year in a row Town have secured the accolade.

Created in 2007, the award is based on an independent assessment, commissioned by The Football League, of the family experience at all 72 League clubs during the 2011-12 season using 'mystery shopper' families and recognises the outstanding experience clubs provide for young fans and families at their grounds.

In announcing the successful clubs, Football League chairman Greg Clarke said: "The Football League Family Excellence Award provides clubs with a benchmark in their efforts to attract families through their gates."

Martin James, community development manager for Shrewsbury Town, was delighted to hear the club had again been recognised for the matchday experience at the Greenhous Meadow.

"This is a reward for all of the staff who work on match day to be proud of," said Martin. "We have a terrific team here who work hard behind the scenes to ensure that the experience is safe and smooth-running."

"To be rewarded for our family experience is very encouraging as we do wish to express that Shrewsbury Town is a family club. To win this award for five years running is a superb accolade to receive."

Sundorne take final chance of triumph

IT WAS third time lucky for Shrewsbury's Sundorne School as they finally got their hands on a county football title.

After two disappointing defeats in finals earlier this season, the boys managed to secure the Under-15s President's Plate Trophy with a 3-1 win over north Shrewsbury neighbours Grange.

In the Under-12s county boys final, Belvidere - after taking the lead - put up a brave fight against reigning champions Thomas Telford who went on to retain the trophy.

The highlight final of the season, the under-16s boys, saw Meole Brace and Thomas Telford engage in a wonderful advert for schools football at its very best.

Meole twice took the lead and with five minutes on the clock were set to spoil Thomas Telford's full house for the five boys' county titles, but an equaliser two minutes from time took the game into extra time where Thomas Telford went on to secure the title.

Drivers ready to head for the hills

DRIVERS and their cars from as far away as Scotland and Cornwall will converge in Loton Park this weekend when two rounds of the Midland Hill Climb Championship are being hosted at the Alberbury venue, near Shrewsbury.

A quality entry list includes 2011 Champion Rob Stevens in his Purple Force, Mike Manning in the amazing Ford Puma, Keith Murray's Audi 80 Quattro and Will Hall in the new Force V6 racing car.

Nearly 20 Porsche cars will be competing following an invitation to the Porsche Club Speed Championship.

Practice and qualifying commences at 9am on Saturday.

Timed competition runs are then held on Sunday, and there will also be to "Top 12 run-offs" at the end of both morning and afternoon sessions for the 12 fastest cars entered in the Midland Championship.

Experienced Much Wenlock driver Neville Thomson is looking to be 'third time lucky' and hoping for good weather conditions following two previous wash-out events at other venues with his new Dallara F3 racing car so far this year.

Multiple winner Neville Rollason, of Craven Arms, has several updates fitted to his OMS 25 single-seater for the event.

But he may well come under pressure from Bridgnorth driver Tony Adams who returns to the fray this year with the new lightweight Williams Force racing car.

Other local Shrewsbury entrants include Tim Higgins in a Westfield SE, Jane Salisbury in a Subaru Impreza, Steve Bailey in a Ford Escort, Tim Edwards in a Sierra Sapphire Cosworth, Sean Thoms in a Porsche Boxster and Paul Jarrett in an OMS 2000M.

Overture finishes in top 10 at Nationals

ZOE Doran, from Little Ness, sealed a top-10 place at the British Dressage Winter National Championships.

Hiding Gary Powers' PSH Overture in the Open Novice Freestyle, Zoe, who competes under her maiden name Taylor, was pleased to come in 10th in a high quality field.

"I'm absolutely thrilled with 'Bully'," said Zoe, referring to her horse by his nickname.

"He coped with the atmosphere fantastically well and to score three nines at a National Championship was superb."

"Bully is at the start of his dressage career but I think he has shown that he has a lot more still to come."

Zoe runs at an equine business on site at her home in Little Ness called Taylored Equestrian, an equine recuperation yard for the treatment of sick and injured horses.

Six of the best needed for League One

Asa Hall in action during his previous spell at Town

TOWN TALK by Stuart Dunn

GRAHAM TURNER hopes there will be up to half a dozen more additions to his promoted Shrewsbury Town squad after agreeing a deal to bring in Asa Hall, writes STUART DUNN.

Turner is delighted to have landed Hall, who scored three times in 15 games on loan to Town in 2008, after the midfielder turned down a new deal at Oxford United.

The Greenhous Meadow manager revealed he has since met with several other potential recruits as he targets reinforcements to make Shrewsbury more competitive at a higher level.

Turner said: "Asa's the first one I'm hoping of maybe five or six. Some players have departed and need replacing."

"There are others who were out of contract and we've made offers to, but there's a lot of uncertainty whether they will still be with us at the start of next season."

"But things move on. They have had a very good season and maybe will have a choice of several clubs."

"We, likewise, have got League One football to sell to players, so it's going to be an interesting time."

Attraction

"I have seen three other players since the Asa Hall deal was agreed and I'm just waiting for answers or the opportunity to take it a stage further."

"I've not actually made offers yet, but I'm in talks with these players."

Turner has been a long time admirer of Hall, 25, who has netted against Town while playing for both Luton and Oxford in recent seasons.

Oxford were keen to keep him but the former England under-20 international, who scored 11 goals in 82 matches for the Kassam Stadium club, was keen to take up a new challenge after ending last season in such good form.

Turner said: "He's a player who's been of interest to the club for some time. I understand he did very well when he was here on loan from Birmingham and, in fact, he scored against us for Shrewsbury here when I was at Hereford."

"I know his goalscoring capability and I think he's a decent all round player. I'm delighted to have reached agreement with him and he will join us in July."

Meanwhile Steve Leslie, the Shrewsbury-based midfielder, is seeking a new club after being released by Wrexham.

Leslie only moved to the Racecourse Ground in January but has been released by Wrexham boss Andy Morrell after the Welsh club lost in the Blue Square Premier play-offs.

Lions ace Taylor still waits

SHREWSBURY'S plans to include England Lions captain Jimmy Taylor for the first time this season have been dashed after he was summoned to Lord's, writes STUART DUNN.

Taylor, 22, who hit 118 for the Lions against the West Indies tourists last week, had been pencilled in to play for Shrewsbury in Saturday's home clash against Wolverhampton in the Birmingham Cricket League's premier division.

The prolific former Shrewsbury School batsman has signed as the London Road club's high profile contracted player for the 2012 season and will turn out when his busy programme with Nottinghamshire and England allows.

Shrewsbury captain Ed Foster said: "It's a shame that we won't see Jimmy this weekend but he's obviously very close to selection for the England side."

"The opportunity for him to spend a few days with the Test side is an important one for him and we hope it all goes well."

Shrewsbury will hand a league debut this weekend to Sam Griffiths, their winter recruit from Shelton, who comes in for England under-16 captain Ed Barnard, unavailable as he studies for exams next week.

Foster added: "Sam's done well since joining the club and it is only really due to the strength of the side in the early weeks of the season that he hasn't featured in the league yet."

"His performances in pre-season leave me in no doubt that he will be able to succeed at this level."

Shrewsbury are also in action on Sunday when they resume the defence of their National KO title with a tricky second round tie at home to Kidderminster, starting at 1pm.

Foster is hopeful that the club's strength in depth will allow them to make progress, despite several regulars being ruled out as they are on Shropshire duty at Lincolnshire.

SHREWSBURY (v Wolverhampton): E Foster, R Bishop, A Blofield, J Leach, R Foster, T Cox, W Parton, S Griffiths, M Barnard, E Green, D Bowen.

TOWN DUO MAKE PRESTON SWITCH

SHREWSBURY TOWN duo Nicky Wroe and Shane Cansdell-Sherriff have left the club to sign for Preston North End.

The pair, who have both signed two-year deals, are the first of Shrewsbury's five out of contract players to leave the Greenhous Meadow.

Skipper Ian Sharps, top scorer James Collins and goalkeeper Chris Neal have all been offered new deals but none have yet committed to the club.

Deepdale boss Graham Westley and chairman Peter Ridsdale made personal checks on the Meadow men, key figures in Shrewsbury's promotion winning side, when they watched Town beat Port Vale 1-0 in the closing weeks of last season.

Midfielder Wroe, 26, joined Town 18 months ago from Torquay while 29-year-old Cansdell-Sherriff was Shrewsbury's longest-serving player having signed in 2008.

While they head for pastures new, Mark Wright has hailed the impact of Shrewsbury Town manager Graham Turner – insisting he's as good as his former boss Roberto Di Matteo who takes charge of Chelsea in the Champions League final this weekend.

Wright's glowing appreciation of the Greenhous Meadow chief comes as Turner, having this week swooped to make Oxford midfielder Asa Hall his first summer signing.

Wright has another year to run on his Town deal and the winger, who played under Di Matteo for a season at MK Dons, stressed he rates the experienced Turner just as highly as the Italian who leads Chelsea into Saturday's Champions League final against Bayern Munich.

Turner made Wright one of his first signings when he returned to Shrewsbury as boss two summers ago, with the goalscoring wide man quick to confirm how much respect the Town squad have for the manager.

Wright said: "He's up there with the best with what he's done here and how he treats the lads. Everyone respects him."

"I've had some good man-

by Stuart Dunn

agers in my time, people like Paul Ince and Roberto Di Matteo. They were good and the gaffer's on a par with them."

"Di Matteo was my manager for a season at MK Dons. He was really good and now he's gone on to bigger and better things. He's getting the rewards and he's a good manager – but so is the gaffer here."

Quality

"All the lads respect him so much and what he's done for us this last season has been great."

Wright, who scored 11 goals to help Town realise their promotion dream, insisted he was already looking forward to life in League One.

"I don't think it's a great step up," said Wright, 30. "You get a bit more quality through the forwards and they will take their chances but I don't think it's harder to play there."

"It's not a massive step and I think we can do well."

"We'll have to wait and see what happens with the squad, but if we can keep most of the players I'm sure we will do all right."

Wolverhampton-born Wright added he was determined to keep shining for Shrewsbury having scored an impressive 25 goals in just over a century of appearances since making the switch from Bristol Rovers.

"I've played nearly every game so this is one of the happiest times I've had in my career," he said.

"I was also very happy when I was at Milton Keynes and this is on a par with that. I've had two good years here."

"It's all about getting promotion and we've done that. I've done well since I've been here and the fans have been great to me."

Wright is now glad to have the chance to recharge his batteries with the Town squad not due to report back for pre-season training until July 5.

He added: "I'll have a few holidays and relax for about a month and then start getting back into things."

"I think I need a break after last summer because I only had two weeks off personally because I had an operation. That's why I need a rest."

Hanwood in promotion limbo

AMBITIOUS Hanwood United have vowed to press ahead with their plans to meet the required criteria to give them the best possible chance of playing West Midland League premier division football next season.

Hanwood, runners-up to Wellington Amateurs in division one this term, are eligible for promotion but need to construct floodlights and a covered stand with at least 50 seats to move up a level.

They also have to refurbish the existing facilities at their home ground just outside Shrewsbury.

Hanwood, who continue to be sponsored by Stone Roses lead singer Ian

Brown, who has connections with the village, have applied for planning permission to build the new floodlights and also to build planned new dressing rooms.

Hanwood's joint manager Mark Parsons said the club were, to an extent, in limbo at the moment as they wait on the necessary time scales while the application for planning permission is processed.

Parsons added: "We are aware of what needs to be done and it's now a case of seeing whether we can do the work required in time for the league deadline."

Former Shrewsbury Town goalkeeper Joe Hart receives his Premier League medal

Hero goalkeepers will have lots to talk about

KEN Mulhearn and Joe Hart, goalkeeping legends at both Manchester City and Shrewsbury Town, will come face-to-face at a dinner tonight in honour of the new Premier League champions' greatest keepers, writes STUART DUNN.

They will sit together at the top table alongside the likes of Bert Trautmann and Joe Corrigan, another man with Gay Meadow connections, at a special event in Manchester.

They will have plenty to talk about, too, with Mulhearn delighted that Shrewsbury-born Hart has followed in his footsteps by becoming a title winner at City.

Until City's dramatic stoppage time triumph over QPR last weekend, they had not been champions of England since 1968 when Mulhearn was keeper in a side best remembered for the skills of Colin Bell, Francis Lee and Mike Summerbee.

Fittingly, Mulhearn and the other surviving members of that glorious City team of 44 years ago were invited to the Etihad Stadium last weekend to join in the celebrations as the blue half of Manchester launched its biggest party for many a year.

And it was a day to cherish for Mulhearn, who continues to live in Shrewsbury and is a match day hospitality host at the Greenhous Meadow, as he watched Hart win the biggest prize in the domestic game.

"The parallels between us are uncanny really, both of us having played for Manchester City and Shrewsbury, not just at football but also cricket," said Mulhearn.

"Joe's only going to get better, he's head and shoulders above anyone else, and he could be England goalkeeper for another 20 years."

"Goalkeepers are unsung heroes but he's won City a lot of points this season with some of the saves he's made in games."

Former Shrewsbury Town ace Hart, a past pupil at Meole Brace School, has won the Premier League Golden Gloves award for a second successive season having kept more clean sheets, 17, than any other top-flight keeper.

Mulhearn, along with his 1968 teammates, was on the pitch having just been introduced to City boss Roberto Mancini when Vincent Kompany received the Premier League trophy.

He was only able to exchange a quick wave with Hart as bedlam ensued but he's hoping to talk to him tonight.

"We're both due to be on the top table at a dinner at the Etihad Stadium," added Mulhearn. "It will be nice to have a chat."

Kitchener told his country

RUGBY star Graham Kitchener is celebrating his first call-up to the full England squad having been selected in a 42-man party to tour South Africa.

The towering lock, from Baschurch, is one of 13 uncapped players selected by England coach Stuart Lancaster.

Kitchener, who was introduced to rugby as a junior at Shrewsbury's Sundorne Castle headquarters, will fly out to South Africa with the squad on May 31.

England will play three Tests and two midweek games against Springboks sides.

His call-up completes a remarkable turnaround in fortunes for the 22-year-old Leicester Tigers star.

He moved to Welford Road from Worcester Warriors last summer but found first team chances hard to come by with Tigers until after Christmas.

But he has since made the most of his opportunity.

England coach Lancaster said: "Graham is someone who I have worked with closely in the England Saxons set-up and he is one of the players I have picked who has not had a huge amount of first-team action. "But he has huge potential and this is a good chance for us to have a look at him."
